Here's What Every Youth Should Know Of Plan

This is the first in a series that tells what every young man should know about his prospects for service in the armed forces. With much additional detail, the articles have been reprinted in a booklet which may be obtained through The Review. The author long has been rated a foremost military news writer in Washington.

By ELTON FAY

What are the odds on you finding yourself in military uniform either because you are drafted or because you volunteer for regular or reserve duty after a glance over your shoulder at the draft board?

Selective Service headquarters has in its files some statistics which give a clue.

At the beginning of 1966, more than 31 million men were registered, with more than 130,000 more being added each month. This big total, of course, includes millions over the 19-to-25 year age group now being drafted. And it also embraces other millions deferred or exempted.

—:—

IN THE "qualified" category (this means 1-A and 1-A-0, the latter being conscientious objectors available for non-combatant service) about 1.5 million were on hand at the start of the year.

Selective Service figures it this way:

At the age of 26, of each 10 who have registered, six are or have been serving in the regular Army, Navy, Marines or Air Force — or in National Guard or reserve units.

The other four did not serve because they failed to meet Defense Department standards in mental, physical or moral categories, were deferred by draft boards or exempted by law.

Selective Services says it fills the monthly quotas predominantly with single men who are 19 through 25 years old. The oldest available men are at the top of the list.

The older a man is, however, the more likely he is to be deferred or exempted for various reasons.

The average age for being drafted is slightly over 20 years and may increase somwhat in coming month.

It's possible to draft a man between the ages of 26 and 35, with the youngest being called first, if the available pool of men below 26 is exhausted.

Only those classified as 1-A or 1-A-0 may be called.

—:—

FIRST ON the order of call are "delinquents" — those who have failed to perform some of their draft law duties.

After that come:

Volunteers for induction — those under 19 who want to get their military obligations over with as soon as possible.

The 19 - through - 25 group, unmarried or married after Aug. 26, 1965.

The 26 - through - 35 year olds.

The 18½ to 19 year olds.

Those not subject to draft unless reclassified include men who have already done their military service, members of reserve units, conscientious objectors, certain students, men with certain essential occupations, aliens, certain officials, ministers and divinity students, the physically and mentally unfit, and those too old for service.

What are the chances of Peace Corps and VISTA members being drafted? Selective Service shies away from a categorical answer but says local boards can give them "occupational" deferments, though this does not preclude a later callup for the draft.

Student deferments have been in controversy arising out of demonstrations protesting the

Can Smash Reds' Monsoon Offensive If It Comes

U. S. Commanders Confident War In Viet Running In Allies Favor

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. commanders are guardedly confident that the tide of war in Viet Nam is running in favor of the allies.

They feel they can smash a Communist monsoon offensive if there is one.

Their optimism stems largely from military successes of the past three months, a time when South Viet Nam was wracked with political turmoil and crack Vietnamese fighting units were pulled out of the line.

But some observers contend that American commanders are making the same mistake the French made before their defeat here in 1954. They say the French thought they could win if the Vietminh fought on French terms, but the Communists pursued their own form of guerrilla fighting in a war that was as much political as military.

The guarded U.S. optimism stems from thest factors:

1. The United States and its allies have clearly seized the initiative and are seeking out the enemy in ever - increasing offensives. In one recent week allied operations reached a record high of 39 search-and-destroy sweeps by 1,000 troops or more. Of these, U.S. forces launched 25.

2. The massive buildup of allied forces continues. The United States has 270,000 troops here and expects to add 100,000 more before the end of the year. Nearly all of these will be combat forces rather than logistic or support troops. The Australians have just finished increasing their force from 1,500 to 4,500. The South Koreans have nearly 25,000 men now and will add 17,000 more by August. The allies including the South Vietnamese already outnumber four to one the combined North Vietnamese and Viet Cong force of 300,000 estimated to be in South Viet Nam.

3. New weapons, new tactics and, importantly, new methods of intelligence in detecting the Communists and anticipating their intentions are paying off.

4. The high mobiliy of U.S. and allied forces, built around the helicopter, is proving a decisive battle factor. Helicopters are being used to lift troops swiftly into battle, as gunships' to bring ammunition and weapons to the battlefields, and even to bring in artillery pieces.

5. U.S. air attacks on North Viet Nam are disrupting supply and transportation lines, hampering war production and hurting morale. In South Viet Nam, U.S. planes are supporting ground actions by the allies and keeping the Viet Cong from massing for offensives.

U.S. military men feel if the South Vietnamese government can settle the internal strife produced by the Buddhists, the allies in time can convince the Communists they cannot win militarily and must negotiate.

During the antigovernment disorders of the past three months, soldiers of the Vietnamese 1st Division sided with the Buddhist rebels in Hue and Da Nang, thousands of Vietnamese paratroopers and marines were diverted to Da Nang and Hue to smash the disresidents, and other thousands of combat troops were used to overcome Buddhist rioting in Saigon. All of this cut into the Vietnamese war effort.

Some U.S. officers in the field complained that the Vietnamese were not fighting their share of the war. U.S. commanders in Saigon conceded that the internal political turmoil had reduced the Vietnamese effort but pointed out that Vietnamese troops were used in support of several recent large American operations, notably Hawthorne and Paul Revere in the central highlands.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, says the coming two months of the monsoon season could be critical in determining who will win.

The heavy monsoon rains theoretically work in favor of the Communists by hampering U.S. air power and restricting movement of ground troops by helicopter.

But the U.S. tactic now is to "hit the enemy before he hits you," to seize the initiative so the enemy's monsoon offensive can't get rolling.

"The question is, who is really conducting the monsoon offensive?" says one officer at U.S. military headquarters.

"Our intelligence has improved to such a degree that we can anticipate where the enemy intends to strike. We can watch him asssemble and then hit him before he gets going. In that way, we can keep him off balance all the time. At the same time, our planes are hammering his supply bases."

Brezhnev Brands It Savage Aggression

DeGaulle Attacks U. S. Viet Policy

MOSCOW (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle discussed the war in Viet Nam with Communist chief Leonid I. Brezhnev today and French sources reported their views were similar.

The informants said De Gaulle was critical of U. S. policy on Viet Nam while Brezhnev accused the United States of savage aggression.

The French sources said the two leaders "noted the convergence of their points of view on the Viet Nam situation."

They also reviewed Soviet-French relations in the economic, cultural and scientific fields, the sources aid. This reportedly included reference to agreements on joint space ventures and technical cooperation which were worked out in advance of De Gaulle's visit.

He arrived here Monday and held formal conferences with Soviet leaders in the Kremlin Tuesday and today.

Earlier French sources said differing viewpoints had slowed up the opening round Tuesday.

"When we talk about easing of tensions, they talk about security," one French informant complained.

De Gaulle sat down in the Kremlin today for another session before leaving on a week's tour of four Soviet cities. He will meet Soviet leaders for more formal talks after he returns to Moscow June 29.

The differences Tuesday apparently involved De Gaulle's suggestion that other West European states, notably West Germany, hold bilateral talks with the Russians to try to ease East-West tensions in Europe.

The talks are expected to continue informally on the road.

U.S. Planes, MIGs Tangle In Air Fight

Navy Pilot Flying Crippled Jet, Low On Fuel Downs Foe

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Navy pilot flying a jet fighter crippled by enemy fire and running critically low on fuel shot down a Communist MIG17 jet over North Viet Nam Tuesday.

One other MIG was damaged and possibly destroyed as four Navy F8 Crusaders and four MIG17s tangled 65 miles northeast of Hanoi. But the MIGs shot down one Crusader, and ground fire brought down a Navy photo-reconnaissance plane in the same area.

In all, five American planes were reported lost in the past 24 hours in Viet Nam. The others were an Air Force F105 Thunderchief shot down Tuesday 30 miles northeast of Hanoi, an Air Force F100 Supersabre hit by Viet Cong groundfire 75 miles southwest of Saigon today and a C123 transport downed on a defoliation mission over the South Tuesday.

The crews of both planes lost in South Viet Nam were rescued.

In the ground war, U.S. paratroopers and cavalrymen battled a Communist battalion on the eastern flank of South Viet Nam's strategic central highlands for the third day, and a spokesman said the enemy toll had risen to 144 killed.

Arbaugh Appointed Wellsville Fireman

Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare today announced the appointment of Barry L. Arbaugh of 910 Appian Way to the Wellsville fire department.

Arbaugh will fill the vacancy created by the retirement of William Haugh on June 1.

Arbaugh, 26, will be sworn in Thursday by Mayor William Daugherty. He has been employed at the heat treat department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. for two and a half years.

Arbaugh has served as a member of the volunteer department for three years. He was selected from the certified list provided by the Civil Service Commission.

He is married to the former Erla A. Wolf of Wellsville. They have two daughters. He is an Army veteran with overseas service.

Parking Ban Ordered On All Lots Thursday

Parking will be banned on all municipal lots, effective at 5 a. m. Thursday, to allow repainting of the lines that separate auto spaces, Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

The director said the order applies particularly to all-night parkers who sometimes do not move their autos until 8 a. m. He said the lots will be reopened individually as the lining work is completed. The repainting is subject to favorable weather, he added.

Entrances to the lots will be barricaded prior to the ban to prevent parking, the director said.

Homer McCoy Victim

Boy, 14, Drowns In Boat Tragedy At County Lake

A Beaver Local schoolboy drowned in a rowboat accident in a lake near East Fairfield Tuesday on the eve of his 14th birthday.

Homer George McCoy of New Waterford R. D. 1 was pronounced dead at 8:04 p.m. on arrival at Salem City Hospital. Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, Columbiana County coroner, ruled accidental death by drowning.

He said the body had been submerged perhaps 90 minutes. The boy was wearing trunks.

—:—

HOMER lived with an uncle and aunt, Ross and Ruth McCoy since 1960, when his parents died. He was a seventh-grader last year at Beaver Local Public School.

He and a buddy, 15-year-old Orvil Sword of East Fairfield, went to the lake after hoeing strawberries for Mrs. Pearl Carter.

Sheriff's Deputy Kent Garvey said Orvil told him they went out in a "leaky boat." They were out about three minutes, Orvil said, when they realized the wood craft was leaking more than they thought.

Orvil said Homer ran toward the bow when water began coming over the stern, jumped into the water and began to struggle, "since he couldn't swim."

ORVIL SAID he followed Homer into the water and tried to help him, but had to "pull away" because Homer grabbed him several times. "He went down and didn't come up again," Orvil told the officer.

New Waterford volunteer firemen were called at 6:15 p. m. and the sheriff's office was notified at 6:42.

Scuba divers John Kotsch Jr., 23, of Rogers R. D. 1 and Donald Hays Jr., 20, of Signal recovered the body in eight feet of water.

The craft evidently swamped as the boys moved from the stern forward. Deputy Garvey said the boat was not in sight when he arrived.

Orvil and his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Sword, live with Mrs.

Hershey First Witness

Military Draft Hearings Begin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee opens hearings today on the military draft — a system the committee chairman described as an "unpleasant fact of life that cannot be wished away."

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, who has headed the Selective Service for 25 years, is the first witness at sessions called by Chairman L. Mendel Rivers after the draft came under fire from congressional critics.

In a statement prepared for the start of today's hearing, Rivers said the committee must determine whether the draft law is functioning as Congress intended or whether it needs substantial revision.

The South Carolina Democrat added: "The facts appear abundantly clear — we do need a draft law for now and the foreseeable future."

Hershey's testimony could have a bearing on whether there will be a later, full scale investigation of the Selective Service System.

"If it looks like the draft needs an investigation, we'll make it," Rivers said.

Rivers acknowledged there have been complaints about the draft's operation. He said he hoped Hershey could answer them.

Some of these he cited as:

— One local board defers a college student indefinitely, while another board terminates the deferment from completion of the academic year.

— No nationwide regulation on part time students.

— High school dropouts must score higher on tests than high school graduates to be accepted.

Governors Plan Cruise Down 'Beautiful Ohio'

CINCINNATI (AP) — The "Beautiful Ohio" is about to be starred as a tourist attraction by states along the busy water artery.

River state governors huddled today at the windup of their Midwestern Conference here to plan a cruise next month opening a joint promotion campaign.

Participants are Govs. James A. Rhodes of Ohio, Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky, Roger D. Branigan of Indiana and Otto Kerner of Illinois.

They said Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton and West Virginia Gov. Hulett C. Smith will be invited to join the cruise from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Cairo, Ill., where the Ohio meets the Mississippi River.

Rhodes, who estimates Ohio's tourist business alone at $1.8 billion a year, was credited with the idea of boosting the lucrative trade of all the river states.

Negro Area Blocked Off By Lawmen

Philadelphia Site Of Violence; King Says Situation Bad

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Highway patrolmen sealed off a small Negro neighborhood early today after Negroes and whites exchanged gunfire in Philadelphia. One white man was wounded late Tuesday night.

The gun battles erupted here as civil rights leaders 75 miles away debated the merits of violence and nonviolence when they returned to Philadelphia as part of the Mississippi march.

Philadelphia Police Chief Bruce Latimer said a white man whom he identified as Stanley Stuart, an employe of a glove factory, was wounded during an exchange of gunfire near the Freedom Democratic party headquarters.

Stuart was treated for buckshot wounds in the neck and shoulder at a hospital here and sent home.

The highway patrol moved in and blocked off a three or four block area.

"No one's going in or coming out until daybreak," said Inspector Maynard King.

Latimer said Stuart's car was hit by both birdshot and buckshot. He said he thought Stuart was alone at the time.

Negroes inside the Freedom Democrat headquarters relayed a report to their offices that three carloads of whites drove up and began firing at them. They said they returned the fire and thought they hit at least two cars.

Other staccato bursts of gunfire were heard in the area later.

Latimer said the Stuart shooting was reported at 8:45 p.m. He said police received a call at 10:05 p.m. from another white man, Gibson Eakes, who said his car was peppered through the Negro neighborhood. Eakes said he wasn't wounded.

Romney Upsets The Cart

Michigan Gov. George Romney has upset a Republican apple cart.

He said in a speech in Cleveland Monday night that the Johnson administration is fumbling in Viet Nam. There was nothing new in that opinion.

Then came the apple-cart upsetting.

Gov. Romney said what the United States is doing in Viet Nam looks like "20th century white colonialism" to Asiatics and should be stopped.

He urged this country to find an honorable solution that will make it possible to get out of Southeast Asia without further widening the war.

"Great as our power is," he declared, "we cannot by ourselves be a police force everywhere—nor should we be an omnipotent agency of national development, judgment and retribution."

THIS IS contrary to another Repbulican opinion that the United States should send more troops, drop more bombs, burn more villages and even set up a sea blockade to isolate the undeclared enemy in Viet Nam, putting the capstone on the late John Foster Dulles' doctrine of stamping out communism on sight any place in the world.

Gov. Romney is being talked about as the Republican presidential candidate in 1968. He has shown that his views on the war in Viet Nam are contrary to the views of other prominent Republicans.

Gerald R. Ford, GOP leader of the House of Representatives, says voters will throw out Democrats next November unless the Johnson administration goes all-out to shatter resistance in Viet Nam.

Rep. Ford and some other Republican leaders, including Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois on some occasions, want the government to shoot the works even if it means going to war on a grand scale in Asia.

These people are jumping on the Johnson administration for not starting World War III, if that is what it will take to enforce Pax Americanus in Southeast Asia. They are willing to risk it. When Mr. Dulles was secretary of state, he called it "Brinkmanship."

Not everybody in the Republican party liked "brinkmanship" then. Not everybody likes it now. There is an issue.

GOV. ROMNEY has declared the issue.

He is betting it will be hot in 1968.

He is betting the American people already have come to the dead end of the street the late John F. Kennedy entered when he made a momentous decision to recover in Southeast Asia the prestige the United States lost in the Bay of Pigs fiasco in Cuba.

Some Republican was bound to do this sooner or later. Gov. Romney has led the way. The apple cart of foreign policy unanimity has been upset.

The American people are going to have a choice. That is the purpose of the two-party system.

Progressive Note

Greener pastures have beckoned to another key member of the East Liverpool High School faculty.

Vincent L. Maola Jr., band director and instrumental music supervisor, has accepted a position in the Philadelphia city school system.

Vince has done an outstanding job in all phases of the music program under his guidance. He has received special recognition, however, even nationwide, for his development of the twin marching bands. The bands have become a trademark of ELHS during the football season.

Vince has left his mark in a progressive sense on the high school's music program.

Generations Yet To Come

The Air Force has sailed into the upper atmosphere with plans for a new generation of missiles.

To keep the nomenclature in the ICBM family, these would be called Improved Capacity Missiles—ICBM's. Naturally, they would be larger and more powerful than anything ever seen before. They would cost more and supposedy would put the United States safely ahead of whatever the Soviet Union has been doing or is likely to do in the near future.

The Air Force hints that adaptations to Minutemen and Polaris missiles might bring them up to the standard of the new generation of Air Force missiles in some limited instances. But in general the new Air Force models would bring about the obsolescence of everything else in the missile arsenal, particularly those pesky Polaris missiles of the U.S. Navy.

Strategically, the purpose would be to design a missile so sophisticated and strong it either could sneak past or bull its way past any defense the Soviet Union could think up for years to come.

It would take at least a billion dollars to design such a missile and additional billions to produce them. Still more money would be needed to build places to store them until they, in turn, became obsolescent and had to be replaced with something bigger, stronger and more sophisticated.

Naturally, the Air Force is not telling everything it knows about Russian missiles and missile defenses. In the past, it never told everything it knew about Russian bombers either. It left a lot about Russian bombers to the imagination.

It just hinted at the likelihood they were bigger, better and more numerous than U.S. bombers and Uncle Sam had better hustle to get ahead of the Joneskies, which he did.

The superbombers of the Air Force now are obsolete, too. That's why the Air Force wants bigger and better ones, including the XB70 that plunged to earth after a collision recently. It and its sister ship have cost more than a billion dollars so far just to get them off the drawing board.

The new generation of missiles would cost even more.

Liberal Or Conservative?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Trying to pin a flat across - the - board liberal or conservative label on the nine Supreme Court justices for their work in the term which ended Monday is like trying to squeeze jelly.

They split ranks repeatedly and s h i f t e d around.

These five men — Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and Abe Fortas—have been bracketed together as liberals.

This would seem to give the liberal viewpoint a 5-4 majority over the justices who have been labeled conservative: John M. Harlan, Byron R. White, Potter Stewart and Tom C. Clark.

And this would have been the case, if it had worked out that way. But it didn't. The liberals voted as a block more often than the conservatives, but there was otherwise a mish-mash.

IN 18 MAJOR cases, which this writer picked from the court's decisions in the 1965-66 term to get an insight into how the justices stood, here were some of the results:

The conservatives voted unanimously against a decision of the liberals only twice. F o u r times they voted unanimously with the liberals, who, for their part, voted unanimously only eight times out of 18.

But six times the conservatives voted unanimously in joining one or more liberals in making up a majority necessary to give a decision.

In the 18 decisions, the greatest dissenter was Black, who has been considered an extremely consistent liberal from away back. Some liberals may consider his dissents this year in the best liberal tradition.

But that judgment depends on who is doing the considering. For instance, was it in the liberal tradition for Black to vote with Harlan and Stewart against the court's 6-3 decision banning the payment of a poll tax as a prerequisite for voting in state elections?

But Douglas, another long - standing liberal, dissented six times, five times side by side with Black, but not joining him against three other decsions, including the poll tax ban.

The voting of Clark may surprise many who thought they had him safely tucked away in their minds in a conservative niche. He dissented only twice from the majority decision, the same number of dissents Warren and Fortas gave.

BRENNAN WAS on the majority side more often than any justice on the court, dissenting only once, and that was against the majority decision which said that only in limited circumstances could arrested civil rights workers have their case shifted from state to federal courts.

In this dissent, a blow to civil rights workers, Brennan was joined by Warren, Douglas and Fortas, while Black teamed up with Harlan, Stewart, White and Clark to make the majority decision.

Besides his dissent in the civil rights workers' case, Warren dissented against a majority vote that federal labor law does not bar libel suits seeking money damage under state law for organizing campaign. Fortas' two dissents were the same as Warren's.

Whether White will ever take a position that will give him a fair and fixed title as liberal or conservative is far from clear yet. He's been a pretty independent spirit. He had three dissents.

Clark, with only two dissents out of the 18 cases examined, could hardly fit into a conservative jacket. Fortas, new on the bench this past term, on his record this year belongs in the liberal grouping.

Harlan and Stewart were the most conservative, but their decisions were not rigidly conservative.

End Of An Era

The Basque shepherd and his wandering flock may become a thing of the past in the American West.

For more than a century, Basques have emigrated to the United States from the Pyrenees borderland of Spain and France, often with little but the clothes on their backs, to tend sheep in the bleak deserts and mountains of the western states.

"Basque sheepherders still come to the West," writes Robert Laxalt, a second - generation Basque, in the June National Geographic, "though the total number of herders in the United States is declining. The old method of raising sheep on the open range is giving way to the trend toward small farm flocks."

Laxalt adds, "This trend and the diminishing of the western range in the face of population needs have spelled the decline of the range-sheep industry.

"In Nevada, for example, there are some 30 range - sheep outfits operating today. T h e r e were twice that number in the years immediately preceding World War II."

This 'n That

Light consists of waves, and the color of light depends on the wave length. The longest wave lengths that we can see are red, the shortest violet. White light is a mixture of many wave lengths, and our eyes respond differently to these wave lengths and send different signals to the brain — this resulting in the sensation of color.

Reuther Muffs Diplomat Bid

By Victor Riesel

The gripes of wrath have done Walter Reuther no good in his restless, ever-searching, high-tension drive for what he wants most these days: A prestigious White House appointment, a high State Department post, an ambassadorship somewhere, so he could bridge the West with "the East."

Victor Riesel

What is not generally understood is that the Auto Union's chief's desire to be president of the AFL-CIO runs a slow second. That would give him merely domestic influence.

He has that. His union now claims "approximately" 1.6 million members.

He is pouring a million dollars into a Citizens' Crusade Against Poverty.

He can speak, if he wishes, three times nightly and many times on Sunday. Invitations pour in.

Furthermore, he knows, and a handful of us privy to some inner sanctums know, that he could have been president of the AFL-CIO in two years.

All he had to do was to play the crown prince and not the Duke de Crillon.

There is no doubt among the truly inside insiders that George Meany was preparing to retire from the AFL-CIO presidency at its next convention in 1967. Despite powerful competition, Reuther would probably have made the succession. He then would have been 60 years old and could have led the movement for many years.

BY FORCING A SHOWDOWN with labor's high command—the real grimness of which has not been fully told—all Reuther got was the coup de grace when Meany lashed at him with: "You've told a G— d— rotten, filthy lie."

There was no Queen's English in Walter's retort: "In the interests of unity, I'll swallow that——."

That was not the worst of it. Reuther's own people—the really influential men of the old CIO—turned against him on the issue of labor's bolting the ILO Congress in Geneva.

The usually good-humored Communication Workers' chief, Joe Beirne, accused him of being "representative of a group of small, narrow men who are afraid, and instead of doing things you destroy . . . Why the hell do you think Meany should call you everytime he takes an action? We are all international presidents and there are 27 of us. . . ."

Reuther's support in the now famous June 16th AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting came from a handful of small unions—with the exception of the Men's Clothing Workers, long a proponent of "building bridges" to the Communist lands.

"Abe" Abel of the Steel Workers was elsewhere.

Young Paul Jennings of the International Union of Electrical Workers voted with Meany.

The National Maritime Union's traditionally militant Joe Curran made it a point to tell Meany that the sailors voted on principle for Reuther's position but it was not a personal action against Meany.

THUS REUTHER SHOWED virtually no strength at all in the high command, despite an hour-long speech based on carefully prepared notes.

Thus, too, he had worked himself out of any consideration for a White House appointment. Why? Because Lyndon Johnson plays it "regular"—by tradition and tactic, whether he deals with Democrats, Republicans or laborites.

No appointment in the labor field is made without consulting the movement—meaning its spokesman George Meany. They talk regularly. They meet far more often than the public knows.

Thus in the political sense, in the meaning of what is known as "senatorial courtesy," Walter Reuther will not get any appointment of consequence so long as he is believed to be persona non grata with the labor movement's policy makers.

Reuther, some believe, had thought otherwise.

When he dispatched the first letter to Meany criticizing him for approving the bolt of American worker delegates from the ILO early in June, Reuther also sent a copy to President Johnson. Some of those around Reuther thought that the President would be pleased with Reuther's defense of "building bridges" to the Soviet bloc.

Meany, who could have written the book on basic tactics, also plays it "regular."

DELEGATES TO THE ILO CONGRESS are presidential appointments. So when the chief U.S. labor delegate, Rudy Faupl, walked out after a Communist had been elected president of the Congress and Faupl telephoned Meany Trans-Atlantic, Meany immediately phoned Mr. Johnson, Secretary of State Rusk and Labor Secretary Writz.

Then Meany went over to see the President.

Meany talked long and intensely. The President listened and then said, "well, my friend, I understand." He did not pressure Meany on the "bridge" project. They talked politics, mostly Texan.

In other conversations the President indicated he did not feel that Meany was injuring national policy by demonstrating against the ILO election.

If someone in the White House did indicate that the President needed Reuther's support in bridge building, that someone did Reuther as great a disservice as Reuther did himself.

Odd Facts

Although only about 65 per cent of Americans today are members of any religious organization still 90 per cent of them want to be married by a religious official. Just one out of 10 marriages in the U.S. is a civil service ceremony.

Wheat Fades

By Richard L. Worsnop

What Happened To Reserves?

Surplus wheat once amounted to an embarrassment of riches that Washington found more embarrassing than enriching. The excess grain could hardly be given away, let alone sold for hard currency. Annual storage costs ran into the millions.

Today American wheat is being eaten, here and abroad, faster than farmers can grow it. With reserves on hand at the end of the 1965-66 crop marketing year, June 30, will aggregate about 550 million bushels, as compared with 1.4 billion bushels five years ago. By mid-1967, the reserce will have shrunk to a projected 250 million-350 million bushels.

THE RATE OF DEPLETION has federal farm officials worried. It's said that a wheat reserve of between 650 million and 750 million bushels is about what we need as a strategic stockpile, a quantity below which we should never allow our reserves to fall.

President Johnson authorized a 15 per cent increase in wheat acreage allotments early in May. But the increase affects only the 1967 crop. This year's harvest is falling below expectations because of drought and late frost, whittle foreign demand continues to mount.

FEEDING THE WORLD with American what is an appealing but impossible undertaking. There simply isn't enough to go around. The only way for hungry countries to meet their grain requirements in the long run is to limit population growth, boost food production, or both.

This idea is the guiding principle of the Food for Freedom bill, which was passed by the House and sent to the Senate on June 9. The bill would substitute planned production for export for the old concept of surplus disposal. And it would specify that countries receiving American food assistance show determination "to improve their own agricultural production."

WHEAT FARMERS, of course, are more interested in prices than in policy. They wonder if Washington will allow them to profit from elimination of the surplus, which has kept prices down for years.

Wheat-state members of the House succeeded in amending the Food for Freedom bill with a view to assuring a bigger return to farmers. The amendment provides that if reserves of wheat (and of certain other commodities) drop below 25 per cent of a year's consumption—that is, below 375 million bushels—the Commodity Credit Corporation would have to increase its resale price to 115 per cent of the support price.

This would, in effect, raise the lid on wheat prices when no surplus exists, because CCC now sells from its stocks whenever the market price exceeds 105 per cent of the support price. At long last, the wheat farmer can see the pot at the end of the rainbow.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

As I wrote this letter, I was sitting in the carpeted office of the superintendent of East Liverpool schools. There was quite a turmoil going on around me as to the release of Mr. Frank Chan.

At the Board of Education meeting Monday night, Mr. Blair stated that the reasons for which Mr. Chan was released are detrimental to his reputation and he would not r e v e a l them.

Yet as the board meeting was in its final stages Mr. Chan came in and received such applause that Mrs. Dunlop had to pound on the desk to restore order. He calmly waited until the meeting was about to close and then was given the chance to speak.

He said he knew of nothing he had done which was so wrong as to lose him his job and ruin his reputation. He then invited Mr. Blair to publicly reveal this reason, as he did not know. Mr. Blair said nothing.

As a math student of Mr. Chan this year, and a Math IV student next year, I would like to know this reason also.

high school dropouts," Rivers commented.

The chairman warned "No law. . .can endure if it does not, in the last analysis, have the sanction and support of a majority of the people."

Congressional critics contend the draft discriminates against the poor and uneducated. They charge that the affluent who can afford to go to college are deferred.

Some members of Congress have suggested that other types of national service, such as the Peace Corps, be allowed as an alternative to the draft.

But others say new administrative procedures could curb discrimination.

"We will never devise a draft law which will gladden the heart of the young man who receives his induction notice," Rep. William E. Minshall, R-Ohio, said in calling for a special draft study commission last month.

"But we can write a law which will assure him that his country is treating him justly, without discrimination and with his best interests in mind during this period of national emergency."

The "authority to induct" portion of the draft law expires June 30, 1967. The hearings starting today could provide groundwork for decisions on this and other sections of the law.

Governors

Sunday, Rhodes presided at the annual state dinner Tuesday night for about 700 delegates and guests with U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, Ohio's only five-term governor as speaker.

Lausche decried what he called a false image of the United States stemming from Washington hearings on the Viet Nam conflict by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of which he is a member.

He asserted that questions and statements at the hearings led to false belief that the United States: is the aggressor in South Viet Nam; committed atrocities there; seeks to impose colonial domination; demands unconditional surrender, making peace negotiations impossible and turned the country into a brothel.

Lausche told the banquet that "the false image created by certain aspects of the hearings" induced the Buddists, led by Communists, to create the disorders in South Viet Nam in recent weeks.

Commenting earlier on asserted dissatisfaction among Democrats and labor leaders over his so-called liberalism, Lausche declared he would not be harnessed by those seeking to change his political course.

"I have no doubt but that I could gain the support of those dissatisfied individuals if I was willing to become a slave and allow them to master the performance of my public services," Lausche told newsmen. "That I will not do," he said.

During the day, Lausche played golf with former congressman Robert Taft Jr., son of "Mr. Republican" for whom the senator once said he voted.

Governors of Great Lakes states at the conference joined in calling for an end to St. Lawrence Seaway tolls.

While playing baseball, Grover Dyke, son of Harold Dyke of 1752 Pennsylvania Ave., suffered a cut finger on a catcher's mask.

David Yantz, son of John Yantz of Pughtown, fell at home, receiving a cut leg on a milk bottle.

Charles Dickey of 353 Penn Ave., Midland, an employe of an asphalt concern, received abrasions of the left palm while at work.

William Dorsey of 515 Virginia Ave. suffered a knee injury while playing football.

Jane Ellen Lamp, daughter of Perry Lamp of 3rd St. Ext., Chester, suffered a bruise and puncture wound of the scalp in a fall.

Accidents are the fourth leading cause of death in this country and in children, teen-agers and young adults they are the leading cause.

Viet Nam war. The law makes a student eligible for deferment until graduation from college, provided he goes to school full time and his grades are satisfactory.

Selective Service lets the local boards decide whether he is really working at his education or just using it to keep out of the service. Graduate students can be deferred on the basis of "national health, safety or interest."

—:—

A YOUNG man reaching 18 years is required to register with his local board (there is one in about every community and the address usually appears in the telephone directories) within five days after he becomes 18. Registration is easy. You make a personal appearance at your local board and the registrar asks questions and fills out forms.

A man is required to notify his board of change in address within 10 days after it occurs.

A draft registrant has the right — and it is used often—to appeal his classification.

The appeal must be made by the registrant within 10 days after it is mailed him by his local board. His employer also may appeal if the employer previously had requested deferment for the registrant. And legal dependents also may appeal.

Better do like the Selective Service law says. The maximum penalty for violation of provisions of the law is five years in prison or $10,000 fine or both.

And, as Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara told Congress early in 1966:

"We cannot look forward to discontinuance of the draft in the coming decade unless changing world conditions permit the reduction of our regular forces substantially below the levels which have proved necessary since the beginning of the Korean war."

So don't count on wars going out of style and the need for selective service or volunteer enlistment ending. We'll talk about volunteering tomorrow.

BARRE, Vt. (AP) — After a series of burglaries at the Calmont Beverage Company's warehouse in which entry was made through a window, company officials decided to make sure no thief got through it again. The window was boarded up, barred, electrified and a searchlight was aimed at it. Recently a thief bypassed the impregnable window and entered by breaking the glass in the front door and turning the inside door knob.

For better-looking wood picture frames, apply a coat of paste wax and polish. It also makes the dusting of them an easier task.

GI Pay Increase Bill Clears Major Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A pay increase for U.S. servicemen averaging 3.2 per cent reportedly has cleared a major congressional hurdle.

Sources said Senate-House conferees reached tentative agreement Tuesday on the increase for some 3 million persons now on active military duty or in other uniformed services.

Details of the military pay boost were expected to be announced today by Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., House Armed Services Committee chairman.

South Side's Board OK's Supply Bids

Awarding of various supply contracts and hiring of a social studies instructor was authorized by the South Side Joint School District during a meeting Monday night.

William C. Robbins of Aliquippa was employed as a social studies teacher and assistant football coach, replacing Thomas E. Rockrohr, who resigned.

Among contracts awarded were Kurtz Brothers of Clearfield, Pa., classroom supplies, $2,894; Petroleum Solvents, fuel oil, 9.9 cents a gallon; Broadhead-Garrett, $439, and McKilligan of Rome, N.Y., $186, industrial arts supplies; Magee of Imperial, Pa., $5,908, for electrical work for the kindergarten; Hobbs Dairy of Georgetown R.D. 1, milk.

The board discussed the tentative budget of $731,326, and decided to take final action at the next meeting July 5.

It was announced applications are being received for a kindergarten aide and librarian aide. Applications may be placed at the school, with selection of the personnel planned at the next meeting.

Roy Vogel, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Vogel of Fombell R. D. 1, died from a skull fracture and chest injuries when the tractor struck a post and rolled over about 8:30 p. m. on a driveway adjacent to the home.

Five Are Hurt As Cars Hit

Two teen-agers were hospitalized and three others injured in an auto accident Tuesday at 11:15 p. m. at the intersection of 11th and Center Sts., Wellsville.

Police said the crash involved cars operated by Darlene McCarron, 17, daughter of Hugh McCarron of 1760 Chester Ave., and Carl Snediker, 18, son of Mrs. Thelma Snediker of 1311 Center St.

Officers said the two collided at the intersection. The mishap still is under investigation.

Snediker, admitted to City Hospital, was in "fair" condition today with contusions of the left side of his head and left ribs.

A passenger in his car, Kristina Call, 16, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Call of 1148 Riverside Ave., also was in "fair" condition with a possible fracture of the left arm and possible fractured left ribs.

Miss McCarron was treated for contusions of the upper right arm. Two girls in her car also were injured. Cathy Crea, 16, daughter of Valentine Crea of 948 Main St., was treated for contusions of the forehead and Debbie Williams, daughter of William Williams of 1741 Buckeye Ave., suffered contusions of the left ankle.

Three other men were hospitalized.

County Action Seen Soon On Airport Fund

LISBON — County commissioners may take action Thursday on the County Airport Authority's request for funds to plan the new field.

The two groups had their third meeting Tuesday night at the Courthouse and set another session for the commissioners' office tomorrow afternoon.

The authority wants the county to appropriate funds, then apply to the Federal Aviation Authority for matching money to plan the port at old Swaney Airport in Madison Township.

Don Bertram of Michael Baker Associates at Rochester, Pa., submitted a proposal of $14,200 which would mean $7,100 from the county.

Tom Moshur of Moshur, Fok McClain and McGraw of Youngstown said the plan could be made for $10,000 with the county furnishing half.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis, a member of the authority, said commissioners could appropriate the money legally.

R. Max Gard of Lisbon, president of the commissioners, said he will be inclined to go along with the $5,000 proposal, provided the commissioners received a written opinion from the prosecutor, that the land is in the county name, that steps are taken to vacate a Madison Township Rd. across the site, and that he receives assurance the county will not be called on to finance operation and maintenance of the port once it is built.

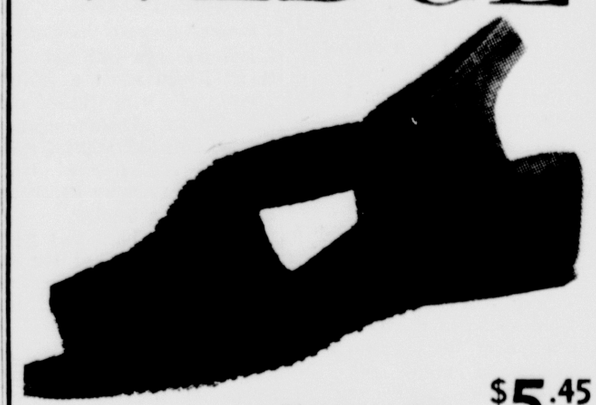

Ernest Webb of the Ohio Department of Aviation was present. The state has promised $100,000 for construction of the airport.

Authority members present were Chairman Vince Laneve and County Commissioner James W. Boyd, both of East Liverpool; Bettis, Salineville; Vaughn McMorrow of Wellsville; County Engineer John Ursu of Salem; Charles Chesney of Columbiana; Paul Dailey of Lisbon R. D. 3; Pete Gallo of Lisbon, and Secretary Ed Ward of Lisbon.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband has a thing about placing long-distance telephone calls. He just hates to do it. So I must take over this thankless chore.

If he would tell me who he wants to call and leave me alone, everything would be fine. But, no—he stands by the phone, writes notes and shoves them in my face. When he begins to pull at my arm and shout instruction at me, I get mad. The long-distance operators must think I'm a subnormal child.

Last night I told him I won't place any more calls for him unless he leaves me alone. He says he wouldn't yell at me if I did it right. We've had so many arguments over this that I'm turning to you in desperation. Please help.—DIAL 211.

Dear Dial: Ask your husband to write down (a) the name of the person he wishes to reach and (b) whether he wants you to place a person-to-person call or a station call.

Ask him to wait in another room until you have the party on the line or word that the party cannot be reached. This should put an end to the problem.

Class Runt

Dear Ann: I'm a boy almost 14 years old and very worried about something. I have been the shortest kid in my class ever since I can remember. Mom keeps telling me I'll catch up and not to worry about it.

But I'm not catching up and some of the guys I hang around with are almost 6 feet tall.

Could smoking be the cause of me not growing? Please answer in your newspaper article. Thank you.—SAWED-OFF RUNT.

Dear Sawed-Off: Smoking does not stunt growth. (I heard the same old wives' tale when I was a teen-ager.) But it could cause other—and more serious—problems if you keep it up. Smoking over a long period of time can damage your blood vessels and give you real throat and lung trouble. Knock it off, Bub.

No Thrill Date

Dear Ann: My mother and I had an argument last night. It all began when a fellow I grew up with asked me out. (We are the same age, 17.) I dated him twice during spring vacation and decided not to date him any more because he is just like a brother.

My mother likes this guy a lot. When she heard me turn him down she became upset and asked why I would refuse to date such a wonderful fellow. When I told her I didn't get a charge out of him she looked at me like I was a scarlet woman or something.

I tried to explain that when a boy holds my hand or puts his arm around me I want to feel a certain little excitment. She said "I was disgusting." When I asked her how she could have married daddy if she didn't get a charge out of him, she gave me a lecture on my dirty mind.

I would like your opinion on this argument and your verdict.—J.W.

Dear J.W.: There is nothing disgusting or dirty about that "certain little feeling of excitement." It's as natural as hunger or thirst. It's one of the basic human drives that keeps the earth populated.

I do think, however, that a girl who would refuse to date a fellow because he doesn't turn her on, makes a big mistake. The most enduring kind of love doesn't make you go boinn-nnng the minute your eyes meet his—like it says in the songs.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope

Honors Taken By Wellsville Cheerleaders

Wellsville's varsity cheerleaders won first place for the third consecutvie year in the cheerleader camp conducted this year at Kent State University.

The squad shared first-place honors in its division with a squad from Lorain.

Some 250 girls participated in the camp, according to Mrs. Helen Welch, sponsor of the Wellsville squad.

She said the divisions for the competition are based on the size of the squad. Members of the varsity squad were Beth Todd, captain, Sherry Dinch, Cindy Pringle, Carol Robinson and Becky Davidson. All are new members except Miss Todd, who served last year.

The reserve squad also attended. The members are Vicky Baker, captain, Sondra Richards, Mary Corbisello, Sheryl and Francie Hawk.

Foreign visitors spent $1.36 billion in this country during 1965, according to estimates of the American Society of Travel Agents.

Too Many Numbers

LONDON, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Bell Harrison, telephone operator plugged in on a line when a patron obviously had dialed the wrong number. She asked the patron what number he had dialed. "I want 4071," the man answered. "There is no such number," Mrs. Harrison responded. After a gasp, she heard the man's voice say, "By gosh, I dialeed my zip code number."

Vandals Damage Parked Vehicles

Two parked cars were damaged in instances of vandalism reported to East Liverpool police Tuesday.

Addison Birch of 862 Baxter St. said a vandal used a sharp, pointed object to punch a one-inch hole in the left rear fender of his 1961 model auto while it was parked on Baxter St. between Monday midnight and 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Harry Croxall, a salesman, reported another case of vandalism at the Arb Motors used car lot on Pennsylvania Ave., owned by Howard Arb. He said a vandal hurled a large stone which damaged the tinted windshield of a 1963 model auto parked on the lot.

The damage took place between 9 p. m. Monday and 8:30 a. m. Tuesday, Croxall said. The stone was found on the roof of the car.

Man And Boy Hurt As Autos Hit On W. 8th

A Wellsville district man and a Newell child were injured in a spectacular three - way crash about noon Tuesday on the four-lane section of W. 8th St. near the Patterson Field entrance, police reported.

The collision involved a 1962 sedan driven by Mrs. Olga O'Kruta, 36, of 821 Jefferson St., Newell, a 1965 sedan operated by Arthur W. McElroy Jr., 31, of 524 Campground Rd., Wellsville, and a 1966 sedan driven by Jack Carl Amato, 19, of 1200 Commerce St., Wellsville, police reported.

McElroy, whose car probably will be written off as a total loss, suffered an injury of the left shoulder, police reported. He said he would consult his family physician. John O'Kruta, 5, a passenger in the auto of Mrs. O'Kruta, suffered a scratch on the left arm, officers said.

Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins, who investigated, cited Amato on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Mrs. O'Kruta reported her westbound car was stopped with the left turn signal flashing. McElroy reported he stopped behind the O'Kruta car and his auto then was struck from the rear by Amato's.

McElroy's auto struck the O'Kruta car, then rebounded across the highway and finally stopped in the Patterson Field entrance, officers said.

Amato was driving a vehicle registered to Liverpool Express, Inc., of 16th and Nevada Sts., Wellsville. He told police he glanced to the right lane of the highway and when he looked back he saw the McElroy car halted ahead of him. Amato said he slammed on his brakes and pulled to the right, but too late to avoid the collision.

McElroy's car, damaged heavily in both the front and rear, probably will be written off as a total loss, officers said. There was damage to the rear of the O'Kruta car and the left front of Amato's auto, police said.

Amato pleaded guilty to the traffic charge today in Municipal Court and was fined $10 and costs.

Two New Teachers Hired

Lisbon Board Will Confer Again On School Addition

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education approved hiring two new teachers Tuesday night and decided on student accident insurance.

Board members discussed with Architect George Smith of Youngstown ways to trim expenses at the proposed welding shop addition for the high school.

No action was taken last night on bids submitted June 7. Another special meeting will be called after the architect has conferred with contractors relative to changes in the plan.

The board directed Supt. Oliver H. Payne to offer contracts to Miss Frances May Corso of 1445 S. Lincoln Ave., Salem, and Miss Norma Kathryn Bryant of 462½ Franklin St., Salem.

Miss Corso was graduated from Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, in 1963 and received a master's degree from Miami University at Oxford this year. She has majors in biology and botany and a minor in comprehensive science. She taught one year at Fifth Ave. High School, Pittsburgh.

Miss Bryant's home is in Beckley, W. Va., but she is residing in Salem while taking summer work at Youngstown University. A graduate of Concord College, Athens, W. Va., she has 18 years experience in the elementary grades of Raleigh (W. Va.) County schools.

Payne said the system needs five teachers — kindergarten, high school art, high school English, and two for special education. Nine of the 1965-66 faculty have not returned signed contracts due June 1.

The board accepted the student accident policy of the Pioneer Mutual Casualty Co. of Columbus "as offering the most for the lowest prices," which Dr. Wade A. Bacon, board president, said should be the chief consideration. The school year premium will be $2 for kindergarten through Grade 6, $3 for grades 7-12 and $15 for members of the football squad. Nationwide had Lisbon's student insurance last year.

Leetonia Typewriter Service received a contract to clean school typewriters this summer at $5 each.

Members studied Calgon Corp.'s report on a pitting problem in boilers and water lines at Lincoln School and decided to follow recommendations of the firm's engineer. He said the boilers should be treated with a chromate inhibitor and return lines with a filming amine.

Payne and Clerk Henry Dawes received permission to attend a clerks' meeting next Tuesday at Kent Roosevelt High School. Dr. Bacon will be on the program as president of the Northeast Ohio School Boards Association, the sponsor.

The board also authorized the superintendent to attend the Ohio Association of School Administrators meeting today through Friday at Cedar Point.

Dawes announced a public hearing on the proposed budget is scheduled for 7 p. m. Tuesday, July 5, in the administrative office on E. Chestnut St. The board will hold its regular meeting at 7:30 that night.

Tobin Penalizes Two Youths For Drinking Beer In Auto

LISBON — Two Salem youths admitted in Juvenile Court Tuesday they each drank three beers in a car before a traffic accident June 14 in Salem.

Steven Papic, 18, of S. Union Ave. told the court he bought a six-pack in an E. State St. bar and shared it with his 17-year-old companion. The minor was driving.

"You can be thankful no one was hurt," Judge Louis Tobin told them, "or you would be spending the summer on the hill."

The court found Papic guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and the minor with "being a delinquent child."

The judge fined each $25 and suspended their right to drive for three months. Papic was ordered to stay out of taverns, or any place where intoxicants are sold, for the next three months.

The minor was ordered to refrain from the use of intoxicants until his 21st birthday and refrain from the use of beer until next Jan. 1. He was placed on a 10:30 p. m. curfew for the next six months.

Both youths work the afternoon shift at a service station. Papic told the judge he had to drive because he lives a mile and a half from work. "You'll walk or have your parents take you," Tobin replied. Parents of the boys said they did not know they drank.

THE PRICE OF PRESCRIPTIONS

One reason why people may be surprised at the price of their prescription is because it isn't a regular expense item like other (and often more expensive) items such as dinner out, auto repairs or clothes for the kids. Yet the savings afforded in prevention of hospitalization or loss of job time more than make up for the price of the prescription. Pirates 'Smoked Out' By Cincinnati; Marichal Wins 13th

Astros Whip Los Angeles Again, 7-4

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Deron Johnson never would make it as a railroad engineer in Cincinnati.

When the railroad engineers learned that Pittsburgh would be in town Tuesday night, they arranged a pleasant little reception. Johnson ruined the party with some lusty hitting that was hardly hospitable.

It's been 20 years or so since Pittsburgh was bothered by smoke but it was just like old times for a few minutes in Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Midway through the first inning of the Reds' 11-8 victory over the Pirates, the engineers and a friendly little breeze combined to float a cloud of black smoke into Crosley Field.

That touch of oldtime atmosphere was the last friendly gesture Cincinnati made all night once Johnson went to work.

The Pirates had grabbed a 3-0 lead in the first inning before the smoke from neighboring Union Station began blowing into Crosley Field.

The cloud caused a delay of four minutes while it floated down the first base line, over to the mound and on out to the outfield. The players could hardly see each other and when it finally cleared, the umpires threw a ball to the outfielders to make sure they could see.

When play resumed, the Reds hopped on Woody Fryman for four runs and a lead they never relinquished. Johnson hammered a three-run homer in the second, climaxing a five-run Reds' rally that built a 9-3 lead.

After coming out of the smoke, the Pirates pecked away at the lead but never caught up. Johnson added a double and scored two runs in addition to his three RBI.

Elsewhere, New York shaded St. Louis 2-1 on Bob Shaw's four-hitter, Atlanta dropped Philadelphia 4-1, Houston whipped Los Angeles 7-4 and San Francisco downed Chicago 9-7.

Shaw won his third straight game for the Mets, allowing only two hits after the second inning. Tim McCarcer spoiled his bid for a shutout with a seventh inning homer. McCarver was the only Cardinal to get past first base against the veteran right-hander.

Three singles and an infield out produced both Met runs in the fourth, as New York snapped a four-game losing streak and a four-game Cardinal win string.

Hank Aaron hit his 24th home run and Denny Lemaster pitched a five-hitter as the Braves downed the Phillies.

Aaron's total matched the National League mark for homers through June. He has nine games left this month in which to break the NL record and try for the major league high of 30 held by Babe Ruth.

John Bateman drove in four runs — three of them on a bases-loaded double — as the Astros beat the Dodgers for the second straight night. Mike Cuellar saved the victory for Dick Farrell.

Juan Marichal became the major league's winningest pitcher with his 13th victory as the Giants outlasted the Cubs. Marichal was tagged for 10 hits but hung on to pitch the complete game.

Casper Eyes Western Open

CHICAGO (AP) — Billy Casper, freshly crowned National Open champion, will attempt to become the first man since Sam Snead to win the Western Open Golf Championship in succession when the $100,000 tournament begins Thursday.

Snead was the last to snare the coveted title in successive years when he won in 1949 in St. Paul and then repeated in 1950 in Los Angeles.

The 72 - hole tournament, which winds up Sunday, will be played at Medinah Country Club and has attracted a field of 132 professionals and four amateurs.

With the exception of Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus, most of the top names on tour will be gunning for the top prize of $20,000 including Arnold Palmer.

Burbick's Nip Foe; Litten's Rally To Win

Burbick's delayed Sevy's Drugs chance to clinch a tie for first place in the first half of the Pony League with a 4-3 victory Tuesday. In another game, Litten's nipped Woodbine, 11-10.

Burbick's scored three runs in the second inning and one in third while Sevy's came back but fell short by scoring a pair in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Both Seevers of Burbick's and Cornell of Sevy's pitched a tight game. Seevers only allowed three hits and Cornell only gave up two.

Trailing 10-6, Litten's scored five runs in the last of the seventh to edge Woodbine. Moore's two run homer in the last of the seventh and Parsons sixth roundtripper of the year sparked the Litten victory. Smith homered for Woodbine. Parsons was the winning hurler.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Thursday Monday with temperatures averaging 5 to 10 shaky one-stroke advantage into the final 18 holes today of the Ohio Pre-Seniors Golf Tournament.

Some 188 golfers, ranging in age from 40 to 54, are participating in the 36-hole tourney at the Walnut Hill course.

Still in contention with a 73 was Ted Etzel of Columbus and only a stroke back at 74 were Steve Jupinko of Columbus and E.C. McFadden of Newark.

Robert Seyler of Mansfield, last year's winner, turned in a 75 as did Harold Todd of Columbus.

In 2nd Round At Wimbledon

Ralston To Face Russian

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Dennis Ralston, top American hope for the Wimbledon title, faced the growing challenge of Russian tennis today.

The Bakersfield, Calif., star seeded No. 6, was paired against Alexander Metreveli, the Soviet No. 1, in the second round — and he agreed it was no pushover.

"This boy can play," Ralston said. "No sensible man could fail to respect the Russians these days."

Metreveli, 22-year-old journalistic student at Tbilisi University, is the most finished product of the Russian drive to get a foothold in world tennis. For two straight years he has reached the third round at Wimbledon.

It is just seven years since the Russians decided to promote tennis as a serious sport for the Soviet people.

Russian players won both boys' and girls' junior titles at Wimbledon last year. The Russians are out to do the same again this time, with two 17-year-olds challenging the cream of the world's teen-agers — Vladimir Korotkov and Rosa Islanova.

Roy Emerson of Australia, tilting for his third straight Wimbledon title, has an old score to settle against Wilhelm Bungert, the tall and elegant German. Bungert was the last man to defeat Emerson at Wimbledon — in the quarter-finals of 1963.

Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, who is seeded No. 8, faced the Australian left-hander, Owen Davidson.

Tony Roche, the Australian who is seeded No. 2, took his place in today's round despite an injured left ankle. He defeated Ted Beards of Britain 6-2, 6-4, 6-4 Tuesday in the first round after being granted a 24-hour postponement.

The women's singles got under way Tuesday and the eight seeds all successfully cleared their first hurdles. But Nancy Richey, the Wightman Cup star from Dallas, Tex., survived a shaky start before overcoming Fay Toyne of Australia 1-6, 6-3, 6-0.

Her Wightman Cup costar, Mrs. Billie Jean Moffitt King of Long Beach, Calif., overcame a long, grim second set to defeat 19-year-old Winnie Shaw, the rising Scots star, 6-2, 8-6. Billie Jean had her service broken three times in the second set, but always volleyed her way out of trouble.

Reigning champion Margaret Smith of Australia, crushed Britain's Liz Starkie, 8-6, 6-2. Maria Bueno of Brazil, winner of the title three times in seven years, scored a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Stephanie De Fina of Hollywood, Fla.

Newell Pounds Hookstown, 18-3, In S. Side Loop

Newell scored in every inning and registered an 18-3 victory over Hookstown in a South Side Hot Stove Senior Division game Tuesday.

Bob Pecka enjoyed a perfect day for Newell going five for five with two of those home runs. Jerry Enoch was three for three with a home run while Dan Foltz had three hits. Foltz was the winning pitcher.

Ed Ashcroft and Potts pounded out three hits each for the losers.

Frank Robinson Turns In Clutch Catch For Orioles

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles made Frank Robinson the catch of the year. Now Robinson has made the catch of the year for the Orioles.

The American League's top slugger turned spectacular outfielder Tuesday night, making a great ninth-inning catch in right field that saved a 7-5 victory for Baltimore over New York in the first game of a doubleheader.

Robinson, who has sparked the Orioles to the top of the league since they acquired him from Cincinnati this past winter, immediately turned into the most unpopular person in Yankee Stadium and was the target of all sorts of debris during the second game which the Yankees won 8-3.

The controversial catch came with two Yankees on base and two out. Roy White lofted a fly to deep right field, Robinson raced back to the 3½-foot fence, leaped high into the air, caught the ball and toppled backward into the box seats in the stands.

Umpire Hank Soar waited a few seconds, then signaled the out, which ended the game. Soar's signal also was the signal for Yankee Manager Ralph Houk to become enraged and race onto the field. He argued in vain, then announced he was protesting the game.

"He didn't keep control of the ball," Houk contended afterward. "He was groping for the ball. I don't know what chance I've got with the protest, but I just hope I can find somebody who has a picture of him lying there without the ball."

Robinson, who ended up with only part of his legs visible from the field, was equally as certain that he held the ball.

Then there was Elston Howard's fly ball in the sixth inning. Robinson caught it near the fence but again had to wrestle himself loose from a fan who reached out and tried to prevent him from making the catch.

In other AL games, Cleveland edged Boston 2-1, Detroit defeated Washington 5-2, Kansas City nipped Chicago 9-8 and California downed Minnesota 10-7.

Before his controversial fly ball, White made two errors that led to five Baltimore runs in the second inning and hit a two-run homer in the sixth. Eddie Watt pitched 3 2-3 innings of hitless relief until the Yankees had their short-lived rally in the ninth.

The second game was tied 3-3 until the seventh when the Yankees erupted for five runs. Hal Reniff ignited the rally with a single, scored the tie - breaking run and allowed only one hit in 5 2-3 innings of relief.

Denny McLain became the first in the AL to win 11 games, stopping Washington on five hits. Jim Northrup tripled home two runs for Detroit while Norm Cash singled across two.

Cleveland's Gary Bell pitched a six-hitter and received support from Rocky Colavito, who started both of the Indians' run-scoring innings with singles. Boston scored its lone run in the ninth on Tony Conigliaro's single.

Bert Campaneris broke an 8-8 tie for Kansas City in the ninth when he got his fourth single, was sacrificed to second, stole third and continued home on catcher J. C. Martin's wild throw. Chicago had tied it in the ninth on John Romano's run-scoring double.

Ed Kirkpatrick helped California build an 8-0 lead, driving in four runs with a single and a homer. Minnesota rallied to within 8-7, but reliever Minnie Rojas stymied the Twins on two hits in the last four innings.

Breaking Stuff Makes Bell Winning Pitcher

By C. C. MCGILLICUDDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Gary Bell is pitching better these days as a rejuvenated starter for the Cleveland Indians and the reason for his success is quite simple:

"I'm getting my breaking ball over the plate and the hitters don't know what to make of it."

The 29-year-old Bell, fresh from a 2-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday night, explained that "the hitters have been waiting for my fast ball. But I've found something new in a breaking pitch that goes over the plate. I guess I've amazed the hitters. They don't know what to do."

The husky right-hander says he likes his starting role and his surprising 7-2 record bears him out.

"I love being a starter. I haven't set any pitching goals for this year. I'm just trying to stay out of the bullpen."

Bell was a starter for the Indians for four years before being exiled to the bullpen where he served another four-year hitch.

It was Bell's slider, low over the outside corner that tied up Boston's power hitters Tuesday night.

"That's the best control I've had with my breaking pitch," he said, noting that he also had a good breaking ball in his last outing — a game the Indians lost to Washington although Bell wasn't around to absorb the loss.

"I really can't explain why the breaking pitch is going over the plate now. I just convinced myself I could do it and it seemed to work."

Tri-State Nine, Potters, T.S.&T. Capture Contests

High scoring contests again marked the Minor League Tuesday as T. S. & T. posted a 25-6 win over Potters Savings. Potters Bank and Trust handed Rogers Drive In a 21-13 setback and Tri-State Appliance was a 19-14 winner over First National.

Bob Reed hit a grand slam home run and Robin Reed had four hits for T. S. & T. Jerry Ward was the winning pitcher.

Quinn belted a grand slam home run to pace Tri-State and also had four singles.

Bill Henderson and Wayne Shaw had two hits each to lead Potters Bank and Trust. Dray connected for a grand slam in a losing cause with Shaw hitting a triple and double.

Campy Steals Show For A's

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Campy Campaneris stole a victory for the Kansas City A's in the last half of the ninth inning Tuesday night — the third time that's happened in four games — so comparisons with Maury Wills of Los Angeles were inevitable.

"At his age Camp is way ahead of Wills at the same age," said Alvin Dark, A's manager. "This boy is only 24 and Wills was almost 27 when he came up to the Dodgers in 1959 (after eight seasons in the minors).

"I don't like to compare ball players directly," Dark said. He didn't want to compare them skill-for-skill, talent-for-talent because the little Dodger shortstop who stole 104 bases in 1962 is much older.

"But if Campy keeps on improving the way I know he can, who knows?"

Campaneris has only 10 stolen bases in his first 53 games compared to his season total of 51 last year which led the American League. But this is deceiving.

The swift little Cuban is making use of his speed more effectively this season in more phases of the game. Against the White Sox Tuesday night, he twice beat out bunts down the third base line — something he seldom tried last year.

Nervous fielders have made costly errors trying to cut him down and opposing pitchers make many more wild pitches when he's on base.

With the score tied 8-8 in the last of the ninth Tuesday night against Chicago, Campy opened by beating out a ball to short. He was sacrificed to second. He then surprised by stealing third, the throw was wild and he scored to win it 9-8.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Bob Shaw, New York, gained his third victory in as many starts for the Mets, pitching a four-hitter as they edged St. Louis 2-1.

BATTING — Bert Campaneris, Kansas City, rapped four singles, stole two bases and scored three runs, including the ninth-inning run that boosted the Athletics past the Chicago White Sox 9-8.

Three - time National League batting champion Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates has batted .314 or better the last six seasons. He began with the Pirates in 1955 after having been drafted from the Dodgers' Montreal farm team.

Steubenville Routs Legion By 14-1 Count

Steubenville came up with six runs in the first inning then went on to a 14-1 victory over Post 374 Tuesday at Crucible Field in Midland.

Post 374 committed six errors and was held to a lone run in the sixth inning.

After Steubenville opened with a big first inning, the visitors scored five runs in the fourth frame.

Leasure, the winning hurler, only gave up four hits with Jeff Hall collecting two hits. Bill Wright, the starting pitcher for Post 374 was checked with the loss.

2 More Draft Choices Are Signed By Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two more baseball draft choices have signed contracts with the Cleveland Indians — outfielder Terry Taylor and second baseman Jimmie Carroll.

Taylor, 18, from Belmont, Calif., was assigned to Dubuque in the Class A Midwest League. Carroll, 20, from Atlanta and a junior at Georgia Tech, was assigned to Pawtucket in the Class AA Eastern League.

Parsons, Burbick's Notch Victories In Extra Innings

Parsons Coal, Burbick's and Veteran Plate Glass gained the winner's circle in Little League contests Tuesday with two games going extra innings.

Parson's went eight innings to nip the Chester Legion, 11-10 as Bill Pittenger led the winners with three hits. Blankenship homered, doubled and singled for Chester.

In another contest, Jim Cheeks pitched Veteran Plate Glass to a 6-0 victory over Vernor Dell. Cheeks only allowed three hits while Dutch Wright smacked his seventh home run of the season to pace the winner. Jim Tipton had three hits for the Veteran nine.

Burbick's scored eight runs in the eighth inning to top the Medics, 9-8. The two teams were tied 1-1 after seven frames but the Medics came up with seven runs in the eighth inning only to lose when Burbick's scored eight markers in its half of the eighth.

Randy Talbott knocked in the winning run and had four singles. Ben Gregory and John Jack had three hits each. Frederick led the Medics with a triple and Williams two hits. Gregory was the winning pitcher.

Practice Runs Slated In 300-Mile Car Race

ATLANTA (AP) — Practice runs will start Thursday for the 300-mile Atlanta International race for Indianapolis cars Sunday.

Buffalo Gains Sweep On Strong Pitching Jobs

By The Associated Press

Pitching isn't supposed to be Buffalo's strong point, but try telling that to John Tsitouris and Jim Duffalo.

Route-going performances by Tsitouris and Duffalo gave the Bisons a 2-0, 6-2 sweep Tuesday night over the Toledo Mud Hens and boosted them into a tie for fifth place in the International League race.

Despite an 8-7 loss in 15 innings to the Syracuse Chiefs, the Jacksonville Suns moved into a second - place tie with Toledo. The Columbus Jets increased their league lead to 6½ games with a 5-4 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Buffalo's twin triumph moved the Bisons into a deadlock with the Richmond Braves, who whipped the Rochester Red Wings 6-2 in the second game of a doubleheader after Rochester won the opener 4-2.

Tsitouris pitched a four-hitter in shutting out Toledo in the seven-inning opener and Duffalo scattered eight hits in the nightcap, in which he blanked the Mud Hens after giving up two runs in the first innnig.

A two-base error and Bob Perry's single after a lead - off home run by Dave Roberts accounted for two runs in the eighth as Columbus overcame a 4-3 deficit for its triumph over Toronto.

Bear Bryant Remains In LA Hospital

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Doctors at the View Park Community Hospital administered electrocardiagrams and other tests today to University of Alabama Football Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant but didn't say when he would be released.

Spokesmen would say only that he is resting comfortably and there is no change in his condition.

The famed 52-year-old coach collapsed Monday while speaking to a coaches clinic at Pepperdine College.

Approximately 500 coaches were present when Bryant began his talk on recruiting and organization, two fields in which he is considered a specialist.

Following a full day of tests doctors concluded that Bryant was suffering from internal bleeding brought on by an exhausting work schedule.

NCAA Golf Tourney Sites Recommended

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — The NCAA golf committee recommended Tuesday that the 1967 national tournament be held at the University of Pennsylvania and nominated New Mexico State University at Las Cruces as the site for the 1968 event.

Recommendations have to be approved by the NCAA Council at its next regular meeting. Approval is expected as a matter of course.

Joe Culmone led the riders at Garden State Park, Cherry Hill, N. J., last spring with 32 winners. Jorge Velasquez led with 31 winners during the fall meeting.

King To Face Classy Field At Arlington

CHICAGO (AP) — The year's first showdown between Kauai King, Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner, and Buckpasser, last year's 2-year-old champion, looms in the $100,000-added Arlington Classic at Arlington Park Saturday.

Another contender is expected to be Creme dela Creme, also a hot contender for 1966 3-year-old laurels with eight victories in nine starts over two seasons.

After Kauai King's disappointing fourth place finish to Amberoid in the Belmont Stakes, owner Michael J. Ford said the colt would be freshened up until the American Derby here Aug. 6.

But after Kauai King arrived in Chicago 10 days ago, he became so frisky that Ford decided to have him take a shot at the classic.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Three members of a Johnstown family were found shot to death and another wounded in their home Wednesday.

The dead, each found shot in bed in separate rooms at their two-story frame house, were:

Max Turgelsky, about 85; his wife, Rose, about 71; and Turgelsky's son, Abe, 54.

Turgelsky's daughter, Ruth, about 52, was taken to a hospital suffering from two gunshot wounds of the chest.

Her condition was not immediately determined.

Police Chief Robert Burkhard said the shootings appeared to be murders and a suicide. He said paraffin tests will be made to determine who did the shooting.

Police said a .22 caliber revolver was found near Abe's body and also a note, scribbled in pencil on a card, that said "Due to many years of illness, I am taking this way out."

Police said the revolver contained seven cartridges, six of which had been fired.

$1,000 Awarded For Traffic Case

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury Tuesday afternoon returned verdicts of $500 each for Russell M. and Martha A. Reight of Wellsville R. D. 1 in a traffic accident case.

They asked damages of $3,393 from Minnie Perry of Hillcrest, Wellsville R. D. 1.

Mrs. Reight claimed she received neck and back injuries when a parked car in which she was seated was hit from behind by a car driven by the defendant.

Mrs. Reight asked damages of $2,160, while her husband sued for $1,233 for her injuries. The accident occurred Nov. 7, 1963, on Main St., just north of 5th St., in Wellsville.

The plaintiffs said the defendant was parked behind their car and struck it as she attempted to pull away from the parking place.

On the jury sworn in Monday by Judge Joel H. Sharp were Dorothy Smith and Laura Esterly, Lisbon; Dolores George, New Waterford; Emerson Greene and Henry Honeywell, Salem; Mabel O'Donnell and Mildred Simpson, Salineville; Ray Alton, Wellsville, and Mary Blatch, Maude Grimm, Agnes Zepernick and Merle Miller, East Liverpool.

Bluefield State College Has First White President

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Bluefield State College — A Negro - only school until only a decade ago—is again breaking with tradition. For the first time in its 71-year history, the college has a white president.

And that new president, Dr. Wendell G. Hardway of Glenville State College, foresees as great a challenge and change ahead for the institution as when it smashed through the color line in the mid-50s.

Whatever his problems, Dr. Hardway believes it won't be race.

"There is only one race there —the human race," Dr. Hardway said Tuesday night after being told that the State Board of Education picked him for the $15,750 a year job.

18th Birthday Marked At Quota Club Dinner

The 18th birthday anniversary of the East Liverpool Quota Club was observed at a dinner party Tuesday night at the Country Club, with covers arranged for 50.

Mrs. Laura Reinacher, president, introduced the guests, Mrs. Zoe Mehl, Mrs. Bertha Iden and Mrs. Barbara Turkle of the Alliance Club; Mrs. Opal Bagley and Mrs. Irene Crile of the Canton club, and Mrs. Lillian Beard, Mrs. Mary Jane Brandt, Mrs. Florence Cherney, Mrs. Grace Jones, Mrs. Anna Kratofil, Mrs. Helen Robertson and Mrs. Marian Moorhead of the Youngstown club.

Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, charter president, lighted the candles on the birthday cake, following which the group sang the greeting.

Mrs. Marie Hays, immediate past president, presented a certificate of appreciation to a nonmember, Mrs. Helen Shively, who has assisted the ways and means committee.

The program included a presentation by Miss Carolyn Duell of Columbus, a member of the public relations department of the Ohio Valley Gas Co., who used a collection of nine life-like dolls to illustrate paralleling histories of women's fashion and the natural gas industry.

The dolls were attired in the fashion of a past or future era. Miss Duell made all the costumes. She was introduced by Mrs. Margaret Duffy, program chairman.

Officers, seated at the head table and introduced, were Miss Selma Ladzinske, first vice president; Mrs. Juanita Clendenning, second vice president, and Miss Ethelyn Exley, recording secretary, and Miss Gladys DeBolt, past governor of the 6th District.

The tables were decorated with floral bird cages. Favors were net rosebuds, filled with mints. Mrs. Mary Black arranged decorations.

The next session will be the annual picnic Aug. 23 with Mrs. Hays of Smithfield St.

Pelini Tells Rotary Club Of High School Programs

Carl F. Pelini, East Liverpool High School principal, discussed "The Comprehensive High School" at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

He outlined the current high school program, which he said is geared to "meet the needs of all students, whether of advanced, average or low ability."

One of the main differences between today's educational needs and those of 10 or 20 years ago, Pelini explained, is the necessity of specialized training for poor students who formerly would drop out and acquire a farm job or other menial work.

Increased mechanization no longer permits this, he remarked.

Pelini then traced the various courses offered within the college preparatory, commercial and business, general and vocational departments.

He stressed the importance of English and reading courses, of making provisions for students with advanced abilities and of carrying on a remedial program for students in need of it.

"The needs of the youngsters must be met on their respective level," the educator said.

He concluded his talk by describing new techniques of teaching in biology, chemistry and physics and a new "non-credit personal typing program" for the prospective college student.

Pelini was introduced by Ray Clendenning, program chairman.

Visiting Rotarians were Jack Pozenel of Lisbon and Richard Beatty of St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

Leland Pittenger gave the invocation.

E. R. Chandler presided.

Legislation Ordered

Recodification Set At Wellsville

Legislation providing for the recodification of city ordinances was ordered by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

The action followed a discussion on the need for the work and ways of financing the project, estimated to cost $3,600.

Council met with representatives of firms which recodify city ordinances two months ago.

—:—

NO ACTION was taken at that time because of lack of finances. Atty. William Telzrow, assistant solicitor, informed Council last night the Columbiana County Law Library Association has offered to pay $1,800 toward the cost, or match the money appropriated by the city.

The city's finances then came under discussion. George Lawton, finance chairman, said the picture is not good and that the general fund is $4,600 in the red.

To counteract this, Council authorized issuance of a $10,000 note against anticipated revenues to meet the payroll next month and other expenses. The note will be purchased by the city's Treasury Investment Board from surplus money in other funds. The interest paid thus will return to the city.

Council also voted to accept Mayor William Daugherty's veto in March of $500 in the annual appropriation earmarked for securing an abstract and title insurance on the city - owned property at 12th St.

It was indicated that perhaps this money could be used toward the codification costs. Lawton suggested the money be used for purchase of a grader, a salt spreader, the street program, playgrounds, etc.

Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi was the only objector to accepting the veto. He said the city had a big investment in the 12th St. building and should take steps to protect its money.

—:—

WHEN THE question came up previously, Council agreed to have the title abstract run, with only Lawton opposing.

Council was informed by Telzrow and Allen Baldwin, Council president, that an up-to-date codification of ordinances is necessary in applying for federal aid for housing programs.

In other action, Council adopted legislation authorizing Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare to advertise for bids for a new salt spreader and a used street grader.

Council first considered legislation that would have authorized the director to purchase the two items without advertising for bids. The equipment is being offered by Howard Adams of Salineville.

The city has been using the grader. It was suggested Council not take a chance on getting involved in legal technicalities by not advertising for bids if Adams was willing to wait until the proper advertising was carried out. A telephone call confirmed he was.

Lombardozzi said he doesn't see how the city could purchase a $5,000 piece of equipment (the grader) without advertising.

Council also adopted legislation prohibiting trains from blocking any grade crossing for more than 10 minutes and established a maximum speed limit of 30 miles an hour for trains through the community.

—:—

COUNCILMAN Jack Call said a caucus session will be set for July 14 at 7:30 p. m. with the Columbiana County Dental Association to discuss fluoridation of city water.

He also reported the 17th St. playground is open daily Monday through Friday from 2 to 9 p. m. The lot is closed when there is no supervision, he explained, and any change in hours will have to be made by the City Playground Commission.

Lombardozzi reported the alleys had been graded and oiled. He said his street and light committee is checking on requests for new street lights.

He also reported a double blinker light has been installed at the intersection of 17th and Commerce Sts. and outlined other steps proposed to aid in traffic control, such as extending the yellow, no parking zones in the area. Councilman James Phillips said he was not in accord with the regulations proposed, indicating he preferred more stringent controls.

Councilman Russell Keefer said no bids have been received on city-owned land offered for lease as a boat marina. He was granted permission to go to Lisbon to check records on how much land the city owns.

—:—

COUNCIL granted permission to the Army Corps of Engineers to use its easement with the Pennsylvania Railroad to make repairs to the floodwall. The engineers also are to fill in the old basement and tear down a wall at the old waterworks.

Council ordered legislation to levy rent against the water, sewage and refuse departments whose offices are in City Hall. The money will be used in the general fund.

This was the recommendation of the finance committee. A figure of $150 a month for each department was discussed.

Council agreed to hold a caucus session at 7 p.m. July 5 with Angelo Georgetti of the Georgetti-River Rail Terminal on back rent owed the city under a lease.

The nation's first automotive association, the American Motor League, was organized in Chicago in 1895.

Local Delegation To Meet National Union President

A local delegation will attend a luncheon Thursday noon at Youngstown honoring Jerry Wurf of Washington, D. C., international president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

The delegation will include Mrs. Leah P. Kelly, a "Meter Maid" who is secretary of Northeast Ohio District 18 of the union, and members of Local 677, the group which represents East Liverpool municipal employes.

State and regional officials of the union also will attend. They will include Al Bilik of Columbus, director of the state council, Ed Dailey of Youngstown, director of District 18, and Tony Bellino, treasurer of District 18.

Wurf will hold a press conference about 11 a. m. at the Voyager Inn. A luncheon in his honor is set at noon at the Mural Room. His delegation will be met at the Youngstown interchange of the Ohio Turnpike by Youngstown police and Mahoning County sheriff's deputies and escorted downtown.

New 'Teams Set To Explain Value Of 4-H Program

LISBON — The Columbiana County 4-H program presents a new promotion — 4-H awareness teams of older boys and girls.

County 4-H Agent Robert Lewis said the teams of two or three teen - agers will accept invitations to talk to adult civic and professional groups as well as youth groups.

He said the teams will demonstrate what youth can do if given proper adult leadership by parents and club advisers.

The program will develop self-confidence of team members and project the 4-H program in a new way, Lewis said.

A dozen 4-H'ers are enrolled in the program now and several awareness teams have received requests to speak. Some teams have prepared visual aids —charts, drawings and pictures —to supplement the talks. Teams will handle any length program up to 30 minutes.

Lewis said groups interested in a program may contact team members or club advisers or get in touch with the county extension office, 113 S. Market St., Lisbon.

Friday Hearing Set In Car-'Bike' Wreck

Larry Headley, 17, of 510 Carolina Ave., Chester, was charged with failure to yield the right of way following an accident Monday afternoon at 1st St. and Carolina Ave. in which his 1966 motorbike struck an auto.

Headley is scheduled to appear Friday before Mayor Harry Abrams.

Chester police said the eastbound motorbike collided with a 1961 compact auto driven by Don Glass, 32, of Florida Ave., Chester, with estimated damage of $100 resulting to each vehicle.

Headley received skin abrasions, but declined medical treatment.

The mishap was timed at 5:30.

Kenny Williams, patrolman, investigated.

When pouring medicine, always hold the label uppermost so that any dripping down on the side of the bottle will not mar the instructions.

Federal Funds Obtained

Midland Sets 4 Projects Under Education Grants

Midland Public Schools will conduct four separate projects this summer under funds from the federal government's Elementary Secondary Educational Act Title I (E.S.E.A.)

Reynold A. Peduzzi will be director of the program, and Raymond Stowitsky will be assistant director.

One project included in the program is remedial reading classes being held at two locations.

Six classes will be held in the 4th St. School and three classes will be held in the Community Bldg. in Midland Heights. The classes will run for a period of eight weeks. The maximum number of students per class is ten.

Project two involves elementary library branches which will be established both in the 4th St. School and in Midland Heights.

Under project three, a story-telling hour will be conducted for all the youngsters at the various playgrounds throughout the town and on the Heights. The program of stories as well as the locations and time will be published weekly in advance in the local newspapers.

The story-telling hour will also make use of the instructional learning material center by showing short films and cartoons to the children.

The other main project is an instructional learning material center located on the first floor in the high school building. The hours are 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. till noon on Saturday. The center will also be open during the noon to 1 p.m. lunch hour Monday through Friday.

Classes will be offered in the use of the various instructional learning devices, view-masters, tape-recorders, cameras, filmstrip and slide projectors, as well as the 8 MM and 16 MM movie projectors.

These classes will be conducted in the high school rooms, as well as at the various playgrounds. The time and location of these classes will be announced later. These classes are open to both youngsters and adults, and the instruments are also available on a loan basis to individuals as well as to community organizations.

Other project personnel are George Ordich, learning center director, Terry Chambers, aide to center director; Mary Conlon, reading specialist and teacher, Helen Bradfield and Nettie Gottlieb, reading teachers; Dolores Grossman, librarian, and Carol Yetso, assistant librarian.

Group Wants Dump Closed In Madison

A petition urging the closing of a septic tank waste disposal dump in Madison Township was received by township trustees during a meeting Tuesday night.

The petition carried the signatures of 17 residents who protested the odor and pests from the site along E. Church Rd. and said the trucks using the road are damaging the surface.

The matter will be discussed with the Columbiana County Board of Health, trustees reported.

The trustees approved the placing of triangle reflector signs on bridge abutments and 25-mile-an-hour speed limit signs on roads used by heavy trucks.

A request for the opening of Ammon Rd. off Yeager Dr. toward Swaney Airport was approved. It was announced the road opening was sought because a home will be built there.

Mowing of weeds will start along roadsides Thursday. The road oiling program has been completed. Bills totaling $726 were paid.

Residents were reminded regular township police calls are to be handled by Police Chief Clarence Ammon by telephoning 385-7295.

The next meeting will be July 1 instead of July 5 as scheduled because George Dunn, president, will be going on vacation.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

College Dropouts Need Help At Home

While thousands of youths are now trying to enter college next September, a sizable number are being dropped from college. The major reason is that they have not measured up to expected quality of work. For most of the men who are "busting out" it means they will be called by their draft boards. Some of these bustouts will return to college after completing their military services; most will not. For girl bustouts, and for boy bustouts who can't qualify for military services, the choices may be somewhat limited. Bustouts can't return to the same college within a year or a shorter probationary period.

Dr. Garry Myers

Nor can they enter another college during this period. They may, however, take some special courses elsewhere and make up their arrears through examinations.

A FEW OF the bustouts not qualifying for the Armed Forces may find civilian jobs. While on these jobs they may give no thought to further education. A few of them, however, might choose to take night courses near their home or courses by mail.

Our chief concern should be that the bustout does not give up, but that he acquires ambition for self-improvement.

Of first concern to the bustout is what his old friends and immediate family might think or say about the matter. In some cases health will be named or faked as the cause of not returning to college. When the latter happens there can be much mental suffering all around.

As younger youths and their parents see older youths busting out of college they might profit from this observation. Most may hastily say of the bustout, "He just didn't work hard enough." For most, this will be true, but not for all. A few, indeed, will be wearing themselves out at ineffective ways of mental work.

THE BUSTOUT who was an honor student in high school may be hard to understand. However, at college he doesn't have supervision and guidance he got at home and in high school. His parents and teachers may have kept close after him when he was a high school student. On his own at college, he may not provide self drive.

An occasional student who has constant help and stimulation by parents and teachers might get on in high school pretty well without having acquired skill as a good reader.

So, looking forward with the youth now in high school, we need to do our best to help him become a good reader, to direct himself in doing hard mental work and to take responsibility for mastering areas of skills and knowledge at self-drive and self-discipline.

2 More Cuban Athletes Seek U.S. Asylum

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)—Two more Cuban athletes have defected to seek asylum in the United States as the end of the Central American and Caribbean games in San Juan draws near.

Francisco Marti Gonzales, 20, a swimmer, and Hector Rodriguez, a track man, left their team Tuesday, bringing to three the number of Cubans to defect since the games started 10 days go. Marti said five or six others plan to defect.

Juan Pablo Vega Romero, 18, a wrestler, sought asylum June 13.

The Cuban government sent a 357-member delegation to the event, which ends Saturday. About 10 Cubans defected during the last games in Jamaica in 1962, most of them in the final days.

There was rumor that Cuban officials would order all athletes as they finish competing to return to the Cuban freighter Cerro Pelado which is waiting off San Juan to take the delegation back to Havana. But Jose Llanuza, Cuban education minister, the head of the Cuban delegation, has said repeatedly that his athletes are free to defect if they wish.

Marti competed in the 100- and 200-meter butterfly stroke but did not qualify for the finals. The swimming competition ended two days ago.

Both Marti and Rodriguez were taken to the U.S. Immigration offices by Cuban exiles. The man who aided Marti was his cousin.

Marti already has been granted asylum and U.S. officials began processing Rodriguez' application.

Marti said he plans to live with his cousin in New York. He told a news conference he was turning his back on Fidel Castro because there is no future for a young man in Cuba. He said he tried to leave Cuba in 1961 but was denied permission.

Identical Twins, 19, Enter Beauty Contest

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — There are 37 entries but 38 girls in Santa Cruz for this weekend's Miss California competition.

Miss Los Angeles is a pair of identical twins.

Marilyn and Melody Keymer of San Gabriel will sing a duet in the talent phase of the contest. Each is 19, weighs 113 pounds, stands 5-foot-6, has brown hair, attends Los Angeles State College and measures 36-23-36.

Trustics Discontinued

ELDORA, Iowa (AP) — The Hardin County jail has discontinued the plan of having trusties. One prisoner was given special freedom from jail. He left the building, went into town, stole a batch of hacksaws and other tools from a service station and returned to the jail. Sheriff Lowell McCormick soon found a number of his jail inmates sawing away at the bars of their windows planning a mass jail break.

Draft, Threat Of Service In Viet Crimp Companies

NEW YORK (AP) — The draft — and the threat of service in Viet Nam — has put a crimp in company recruiting of June college graduates.

An Associated Press survey of company officials and college placement directors found that the draft, the rush to graduate schools and the boom in jobs left recruiters far short of the men they needed.

"This has been one of the toughest years in recent history from the employer's standpoint," said Bill Herman, U.S. Steel Corp. college relations director in Pittsburgh.

Lewis Guthrie, International Business Machines district manager in Miami, said:

"There is a large increase in the number of boys who are going to graduate school to escape the war in Viet Nam. They are very frank about it."

Guthrie said it had cut the number of graduates available at a time when the competition between firms for new men was getting stiffer anyway.

"There were only about 20,000 undergraduate engineering degrees awarded this year, a figure that hasn't changed in recent years," said Robert Becker, manager of professional employment at the Aluminum Company of America, Pittsburgh. "There are fewer people available for more jobs."

Peter Frederickson, Boston University placement counselor, said: "I have a drawer full of unfilled requests, and I understand the same situation prevails in practically all colleges in the country. There are more jobs than qualified youngsters."

"I don't know of any company able to obtain its quota of new men," a spokesman for Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh said.

One reason: Industry recruiters must compete with the Peace Corps and VISTA, as well as the military, said Mrs. Nansi Parson of the University of California at Berkeley.

Some colleges suggested students were offering a cold shoulder to business because their youthful idealism makes the Peace Corps more attractive.

Salaries offered generally were up 4 to 10 per cent over 1965.

The college placement council in Bethlehem, Pa., reported the national average monthly salary offered chemical engineers was $677, up from $673 last year.

Boston University reported engineering graduates were offered from $6,500 to $9,500 a year, economics graduates about $6,200, and journalism $3,900 to $8,000 — and more.

"Grads are not asking for more, but the companies are more competitive," said J. William Paquette of Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa.

Companies reported students were less interested in fringe benefits.

Raytheon Co., Lexington, Mass., said only one boy asked about a profit-sharing plan, and that graduates generally give only minor consideration to fringe benefits.

"Fringe benefits are of little concern to grads at this stage of life, but companies have to promise the location they want," reported California State College at Los Angeles. "Our students won't leave California, and usually not even Southern California."

But at Georgia State College, Ben Upchurch, placement director, said: "Each year the students are becoming more mobile. We have a number of students working in the East now. Relocation is no longer a problem."

Many companies, as a result, stress the locations of their plants in the tons of recruiting booklets — and advertising — they distribute.

A spokesman for Republic Steel Corp. in Cleveland said the company found many graduates holding out for jobs that would give them security from immediate military service — which Republic doesn't have.

Marchers End Second Day Of Their Walk To Columbus

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—Marchers who are walking from Cleveland to the State Capitol in Columbus to demonstrate for increased welfare payments trudged into Medina Tuesday night after the second day of their 155-mile hike.

Some 24 to 30 welfare recipients left Middleburg Heights Tuesday morning and marched 15 miles to Medina.

They trooped along the left side of U.S. 42 with the sun beating down from a cloudless sky.

As the sun got higher over their heads, one or two would leave the line, which stretched along about 50 yards and would get into a panel truck that crept along beside them.

Inside the truck, a red-haired nurse, Kathy Earl, applied ointment to aching feet, arms and faces. About seven were driven from Brunswick to Medina.

Although the walk, to protest alleged inadequate welfare payments in the state, was trimmed from 42 members who participated Monday, marchers pointed out that many of those who left had planned to hike only on that day.

And march leaders talked in terms of 500 to 1,000 or more persons joining the trek for the last mile to the Statehouse steps.

The announced purpose of the march is to promote increases in relief payments. The Ohio Steering Committee for Adequate Welfare (OSCAW) which is sponsoring the march, said these payments are inadequate for minimum standards of health and decency.

The OSCAW wants:

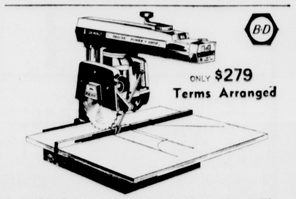

—An increase in monthly general relief and aid to dependent children allowances from the present level of about $33 a month per person to about $45.

—General relief made a federally aided program and additional money appropriated.

—A change in federal standards to allow aid for dependent children clients to earn additional income that won't be deducted from their aid grants.

There have been no incidents on the march.

Jobless Dog Trainer Hopes To Collect Kidnap Reward

EL DORADO, ARK. (AP) — Tom McGinn, a now-unemployed dog trainer, is hopefully eyeing the slim possibility he may collect the $3,400 reward, posted for the capture of the kidnapper of Peggy Ann Bradnick of Shade Gap, Pa.

It was McGinn's two German Shepherd tracking dogs that led to a face-to-face confrontation with the kidnapper, William D. Hollenbaugh, and FBI agent Terry Anderson. In the confrontation Anderson and one of the dogs were shot to death.

The other dog still lies seriously wounded in the University of Pennsylvania Veterinary Hospital in Philadelphia — and there lies the reason McGinn is out of a job and wants the reward money.

McGinn says he must be by the dog—King—when the doctors attempt operations to repair the dog's shattered foreleg and shoulder. He severed ties with the K-9 Kennels here when his employers would not pay him his $90-a-week salary and his expenses while he stayed in Philadelphia with King. McGinn says he was fired. The kennel said he quit when it would not pay all his expenses in going to Philadelphia.

But now he's putting all his hopes on the highly-trained dog. "I've got to get back up there if we're going to save that dog. After 30 years in this business, he's all I've got to show for it."

With Peggy Bradnick safely returned and Hollenbaugh dead after a gun battle with police, McGinn hopes for the reward money because his dogs led the men to Hollenbaugh first.

Two other persons have applied for the reward. They are Larry Rubeck, 15, who shot at Hollenbaugh in the blazing climax and former deputy sheriff Francis Sharpe, whom Hollenbaugh wounded and held hostage in a desperate gamble for freedom.

An exodus of about half a million white persons from New York City took place between 1960 and 1964, according to New York's City Health Department.

Leading Briton Cited In Slaying Pirate Radio Man

LONDON (AP) — A leading British politician-businessman was charged with murder today after the operator of a pirate radio station was found slain in his home.

The dead man's pop music station off the southeast coast in the Thames estuary meanwhile was occupied by a mysterious band of raiders who silenced it.

Maj. William Oliver Smedley, former vice president of the Liberal party and a pirate radio tycoon, was charged with murder in a special court.

The dead man was Reg Calvert, 37, who ran Radio City, a pop station operating from an abandoned antiaircraft fort on Shivering Sands, 12 miles off the coast.

The shooting came shortly after disclosure that an unidentified boarding party had taken over the station.

Police gave no indication whether there was any direct link between the raid and shooting.

A large round wooden tray, screwed to a three-legged wooden stool with a round top, is a pretty addition to a room as well as a handy one when it's all finished in one color. It may hold fruit or it may be slipped over to the side of an easy chair to hold darning supplies.

Hearing's Set Tuesday For Murder Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a preliminary hearing Tuesday at 9 a.m. for Charles Leroy Copestick, 25, of 871 Valley Ave., charged with first degree murder in the pistol slaying of his estranged wife, Mrs. Rebecca Mae Copestick, 19, of Midland.

Flanked by Donald D. Shay and G. William Brokaw, his court - appointed counsel, Copestick entered a "not guilty" plea this morning when Judge Chertoff read him the affidavit filed by Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan.

The the court granted a motion by Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis, who sought a continuance of the preliminary hearing to arrange the appearance of the victim's brother, Woodrow W. Pelfrey, 16, of Midland. He explained that Woodrow was attending funeral services for his sister today in Ripley, W. Va.

The judge returned Copestick to the custody of the sheriff's department, to be held in County Jail without bond pending the preliminary hearing.

Ohio law will not permit a defendant in a first - degree murder case to enter a "guilty" plea. The law does not permit bond for a person facing such a charge.

Van Fossan alleges that Copestick fired a .22-caliber pistol at his wife Sunday afternoon as they sat in a parked car on Price St. Ext. in Liverpool Township. He said the wife died of five bullet wounds in the head.

Copestick stood with downcast eyes as the judge read the affidavit. It says that he "did purposely and of deliberate and premeditated malice kill one Rebecca Mae Copestick, contrary to Ohio Revised Code Section 2901.01.

Copestick was brought to court shortly before the arraignment by Chief Deputy Robert Beresford and Deputy H. R. Gray. Several of his relatives attended the arraignment.

Mrs. Leah Kelly Assumes Duty In Meter Maid Job

Mrs. Leah P. Kelly, who topped a Municipal Civil Service promotional exam Monday night, today began her duties as supervisor of the city's "Meter Maid" force.

Mrs. Kelly was appointed by Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey after her name was certified to him by the commission.

The director said her duties will include drawing up work schedules and "beats" for the other women meter attendants. She will continue to work in the meter attendants' office at City Hall, but she also will make checks on the streets as part of her new duties, the director said.

Council authorized creation of the new post a few months ago to relieve the director of some of the minor administrative details connected with the parking meter operation.

Motorist Blames Car In 'Double Jeapordy'

Thomas R. Williams, 19, of 1095 Pennsylvania Ave. told Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today his newly-purchased auto got him in trouble with the law twice in less than 24 hours.

Williams was cited Tuesday at 9:10 p. m. on Broadway by Patrolman Paul Blevins on a charge of failure to dim his headlights for oncoming traffic. He was due for a hearing in Municipal Court at 9 a. m., but did not appear, so the judge ordered a bench warrant for his arrest.

Williams appeared about 10 minutes late. He told the court he did not dim the lights because the indicator on his dash was not working. Explaining his late appearance in court, he said the fan belt of his auto broke this morning. The court fined him $10 and costs, but suspended the fine on payment of costs.

TAMPA, Kan. (AP) — This little community with a population of only 168 persons has a police force of 31 men. The explanation is simple. Board Requests Early Action On Fall Vote Issues

The County Election Board has sent letters to officials of all county subdivisions requesting that they submit resolutions as soon as possible for any tax levy, bond issue or other special question or issue on which they will seek a vote at the Nov. 8 general election.

The letter went to county commissioners, city and village councils, township trustees and boards of education.

Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, said early submission of resolutions on special issue will aid the board in preparing copy for ballots. Contracts for printing ballots for the fall election will be awarded about Aug. 12, she said.

Ballots must be available Sept. 9, under Ohio law, for persons seeking them under the so-called "soldier voting law," she added.

Resolutions submitting questions and issues should indicate the section of the Ohio Revised Code authorizing the action and whether the proposal — if a levy —is a renewal, Miss Resnick said. Data on filing deadlines and preparation of the resolutions should be obtained by each subdivision from its own legal adviser, she added.

The automobile industry continues its growing use of plastics in construction, with the 1966 models having an average of 42 to 45 pounds of plastic, or twice the amount used in 1960 models.

4 Policemen Given Terms For Robberies

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Four policemen have been sentenced to jail for a series of downtown robberies.

Judge William G. Johnstone Jr., Tuesday sentenced patrolman Edward Dorwart, 28; Edward C. Peterman Jr., 29; Earl W. Dickel, 24, and Richard A. Eggensperger, 29, to jail terms ranging from one-to-two months to nine-to-18 months.

The judge told the men "You have besmirched the good name of the Lancaster police," and have violated a trust.

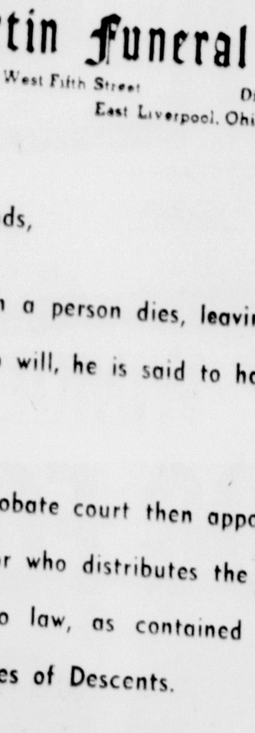

Honey production in Pennsylvania, one of the largest honey-producing states in the country, dropped to 4.1 million pounds last year, the lowest since 1958. Dry weather that reduced nectar flow was the major factor that held down 1965 production.

Fire District Listing Asked

LISBON — The northern tier of townships in Columbiana County is seeking inclusion in the state fire district to which the rest of the county belongs.

In a letter to the district state forester at New Philadelphia, the County Association of Township Trustees and Clerks asks that Knox, Butler, Salem, Fairfield and Unity townships be included in the district and be authorized to issue fire permits and appoint fire wardens.

The five townships are largely agricultural and have fewer woods than other areas of the county. They were not included when the fire district was established several years ago.

Fire district residents may not light a fire outside municipalities, except by permission given by a warden, during the two forest fire seasons — September through November and March through May.

Frank Painter of Salem Township, secretary of the association, sent a copy of the letter to the county commissioners. They said they will write a letter to the district forester in support of the request.

'Action' Director Airs Program At Rogers Meeting

ROGERS — The purposes and operations of the Community Action Program under the federal Economic Opportunity laws were outlined by Miss Catherine Franzetta, director of the Columbiana County Community Action Committee, for members of Council Monday night.

The possibility of a village park development under the CAP program is being studied.

Mayor Glenn Rhodes presided for the special meeting. County Commissioner James Boyd was a guest.

Council will meet in regular session July 5.

Doctor To Surgeons: 'Get This Message'

POWELL, Wyo. (AP) — Dr. Lester Allison, Powell, underwent surgery recently at a Billings, Mont., hospital. Just before the operation he talked nurses into slipping him a bottle of merthiolate.

His colleagues, preparing for the operation, removed the sheet covering him and found the following message painted across Allison's chest:

"Think."

Fickle Men's Fashion

LONDON, Eng. (AP) — When men's ties got so narrow that there was nowhere to go except wide, the fashionable London West End male started sporting a "king kipper" tie, a five - inch wide necktie tied with a bulky knot in the loudest possible patterns and colors. The young men who are really "with it" wear their kippers outside their suit jackets with matching breast pocket handkerchiefs to complete the startling effect.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Can Ben Franklin Save TV?

"Why do we insist on glorifying junk today, things like Batman and Elva Miller?" asks actor Fredd Wayne, who currently is conducting a one-man show and revolution to revive wit and intelligence. To wage his battle, Fredd uses this historical image of author statesman-inventor Benjamin Franklin. One might even say that Fredd is Ben Franklin.

Hal Humphrey

On the set of TV's "Bewitched" series this week casual visitors stopped short and stared admiringly at Fredd, who looked more like the renowned Franklin than most of the portraits we see of this august gentleman. For the last year and a half Fredd has spent a good deal of his time perfecting the Franklin make-up for his one-man concert show, "Benjamin Franklin, Citizen," which he tours around the country's colleges, theaters and other hired halls.

In the two-part "Bewitched" show now being filmed for an early fall airing, Fredd as Franklin is conjured up by the spiritualistic Aunt Clara (Marion Lorne) after the lights go out in the home occupied by Samantha and her husband (Elizabeth Montgomery and Dick York).

FREDD HAS done Ben Franklin guest appearances in spots on the "Today", "Tonight" and Mike Douglas TV shows, but the "Bewitched" two-part sequence is his first opportunity to develope the character more fully for the home viewers. There is some interest at Screen Gems, producers of "Bewitched," to star Fredd in his own TV series ("Our Friend, Ben" is a tentative title), and this really would please Fredd.

"I've felt for a long while that people are ready for something better on TV than most of the situation comedies and other—we see now," says Fredd, irately, "and Ben Franklin is the man who could prove it. I don't think many people realize the depth of this man's intelligence, but he was witty, too, and a wonderful human being."

Hal Holbrook's portrayal in his one-man "Mark Twain Tonight" show (currently in another Broadway run) first started Fredd considering devoting his talents to a historical re-creation.

"I considered George Bernard Shaw, but thought I'd be better off doing an American," he recalls. "Then I was on an airplane headed for New York in March, 1964, when it hit me like a bolt of lightning—Ben Franklin."

FATE STABBED FREDD in the back as soon as he stepped off the plane and discovered in a New York newspaper that Robert Preston had just been signed to play the title role in a musical called "Franklin in Paris."

A man with lesser resolve than Fredd possesses might have looked for someone else, but instead he rushed to get boked on Johnny Carson's "Tonight" show where he announced he was going to play Ben Franklin in his own show. A New York Librarian touted Fredd on to Yale's Prof. Leonard Labaree, curator of 30,000 Ben Franklin letters, and Fredd was off and running.

"I sank $5,000 into scenery and props and began working up my own make-up, and most of the scenery I had to throw out later because it was too bulky. Now I've got everything in one streamlined box the size of a steamer trunk," says Fredd, who will do his one-man concert show for Los Angeles audiences on June 25.

-:-

AFTER YEARS of barnstorming from the New York stage to movies to TV as a good but mostly a utility-type actor, Fredd believes he's found at last a way out of all those frustrations and hostilities he used to tell his psychiatrist about.

"I've done more work in two years than in the previous 12 and loved every minute of it since that first Ben Franklin performance I did at the Chatauqua, N.Y., festival in July, 1965," enthuses Fredd.

He also hasn't left everything to the versatile Franklin. The opening to Fredd's newest show edition on Franklin, a humorous lecture on temperance, was written for him by Sid Dorfman who once fashioned comedy lines for George Burns and the late Gracie Allen.

"But Ben wrote everything else," Fredd adds.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I clean ivory items?

A. — If these are all in one piece, you can usually clean them safely with soap and water. If, however, several pieces are glued together, it might be better to take a piece of raw lemon, dip it into salt, and rub the surface with this. Let the juice dry on the ivory before wiping off with a damp cloth.

Q. — How can I remove marks on linoleum caused by table and chair legs, rubber heels, and rust marks?

A. — Make a jelly out of mild soap, and rub carefully over the spots with a dry piece of very fine-grade steel wool. Or, you can first try wiping up heel marks with ordinary liquid floor wax.

Q. — How can I scale fish more easily?

A. — Place the fish in a large pan and pour boiling water over it, then remove from the hot water quickly and drop into cold water. The scales can then usually be scraped off easily with a kitchen knife or by rubbing. Sometimes just the rubbing of vinegar all over the fish beforehand will make for easier scaling.

Q. — How can I remedy white silk that has turned yellowish?

A.—By putting a couple of tablespoons of peroxide in the wash water. A few washings should bring quite an improvement, and you can maintain the progress you've made by continuing the peroxide treatment.

Q. — How can I remove cod liver oil stains from fabrics?

A. — By sponging with carbon tetrachloride. Washables can be laundered in the usual manner afterward.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Expectant Mother Controls Weight

The onset of a serious weight problem so often begins with a late pregnancy. The expectant mother in today's story firmly resolved not to allow that to happen. Her refreshing letter offers real encouragement to other mothers.

Ida Jean Kain

"I wonder how many pregnant women blithely disregard their doctor's warning not to gain too much weight. I know I used to. This time however, I have been careful, partly because it is a late pregnancy and because I want to fit into the pretty and rather expensive wardrobe I have built up during the past five years.

—:—

"WITH MY doctor's approval, I resolved to restrict my weight gain to 12 pounds. I started to plan early. I wish you would tell your readers how rewarding this has been! Now, at eight months, I have gained only eight pounds. The bulge in the middle is nothing but baby. It is the easiest pregnancy I have ever had. No longer do I have to drag myself upstairs, and I get in and out of chairs trimly. At this stage I can still sprint a half block to catch a friend and not be out of breath—and at 41 yet! Controlling my weight has done wonders for my disposition. If you think my plan will help others, pass it on."

I waited a few months before getting in touch with this model mother, then I called her long distance. Yes, she did restrict her weight gains to the stipulated amount. Her son weighed 8 pounds 7 ounces. Both mother and son are doing beautifully. Two and a half weeks after the baby was born, she went back to her lovely clothes.

Her diet? She restricted only the non-essential foods. All high calorie sauces, gravies, rich desserts, candy and sweet drinks were left out. And she started early. During this important period of new growth the protective foods were included in increased amounts: Skim milk, 4 glasses, a liberal serving of lean meat, fish or chicken, with liver the choice once or twice a week; an egg daily; generous quantities of green leafy and yellow vegetables, fresh fruits, including a citrus, and whole grain bread and spread. Lunch was cheese or cottage cheese with melba toast and fruit.

EXERCISE? She walked six blocks before breakfast. Because of a disk condition she had been taking daily calisthenics which her doctor advised her to continue.

Today, four months after the baby arrived, her weight is 132 pounds for 5' 5½". This intelligent mother went into training in order to have a healthy baby and keep herself trim. My dietitian's cap is off to her.

Unprecedented Construction Boom

Ohio Hospital Facilities Expand

By ROBERT E. MILLER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An unprecedented construction boom is expanding Ohio hospital facilities.

At least $167 million worth of new hospital building is under way. Millions more is on the drawing board.

An Associated Press survey showed that nearly 100 of the state's 240 hospitals are adding more rooms and beds and that most of the others are overcrowded but lack the money to expand.

Some hospitals are waiting to see the effects of Medicare after July 1 before they plan expansions. Others have been hampered by voter defeat of bond issues or labor shortages.

But from Lake Erie to the Ohio River and on both sides of the state, Ohio communities are building to relieve the strain on present facilities and, hopefully, to meet the needs of the future.

Columbus leads the state in new construction. It is embarked on a $35.4 million program to enlarge the facilities of eight existing hospitals and build a new one.

Five Akron area hospitals have started a $32 million, five-year program, about 40 hospitals in the Greater Cleveland area are spending $23 million, and Cincinnati expects to complete $20.3 million worth of projects in 1968. Dayton has $7.5 million under way and $15 million more planned. Springfield plans to spend $10 million to meet its needs through 1975.

Federal funds account for a comparatively small share of these vast expenditures with most of the money coming from the voter's pocketbook through hospital bond issues.

Fund-raising drives and gifts help some. State officials have called for a study to determine whether state - guaranteed lans might answer some of the hospital financing problems.

The state received only $12 million in federal funds this year under the Hill-Burton Act. It was allocated over a wide area on the basis of a State Health Department priority list.

Toledo is one area where the lack of funds has been a problem although the city has $8.4 million worth of construction in the works.

Toledo voters last year rejected an $18 million hospital bond issue.

Officials in Toledo also report that construction is running behind schedule due to skilled labor shortages. This has been true in other cities, including Cleveland and Columbus.

There have been other obstacles too, including lawsuits challenging Cincinnati and Columbus bond issues which allocate some funds to sectarian hospitals. These cases still are not resolved.

Youngstown is moving ahead with nearly $7 million worth of expansion. It includes a new wing for St. Elizabeth Hospital and an expansion of the Youngstown Osteopathic Hospital. Plans also are being considered for coronary and psychiatric care centers and a new hospital at Boardman, near Youngstown.

Lima is spending $6.6 million to enlarge its Memorial Hospital, and Newark will open the doors of a new $8 million hospital the second week of July. The new Licking County Hospital will replace the antiquated Newark Hospital and double its capacity of 170 beds.

Elsewhere, $7.1 million has been allocated to improve and expand three hospitals in Portsmouth. These funds include $3 million for a new Scioto County Hospital, $3.3 million to expand Mercy Hospital, and $610,000 to add 36 beds at Southern Hills Hospital. Ground was broken last month for a $1.6 million expansion of Blanchard Hospital in Findlay.

Some projects under way in Ohio's smaller communities are Greene Memorial, Xenia, $3.5 million; Ohio Valley and St. John's, Steubenville, $1.7 million and $3.3 million, respectively; Harrison County at Cadiz, $1.8 million; Bluffton Community Hospital, $546,000; Fayette County at Washington Court House, $805,000; Union at Dover, $2.5 million; Twin City at Dennison, $150,000; Pomerene at Millersburg, $465,000, and East Liverpool City Hospital, $525,000.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: It breaks my heart to see and hear of so many children injured because of the negligence of an adult.

In my work with the Division of Accident Prevention, U. S. Public Health Service, we know that one of the main causes of burns to small children results from the long electric cords which are attached to appliances and plugged into a wall socket.

The child crawls, runs into, or innocently pulls the cord of the percolator, iron, etc.; it turns over, and he is badly burned.

If you could get the message to your readers that appliances should be kept close to the wall socket and that children should be kept away from appliances, you will keep many children from being burned.

IRMAGENE N. HOLLOWAY.

DEAR FOLKS: For those of you who have those old beat up plastic bedside radios (which usually have been dropped on the floor a couple of times and the plastic is broken). . . .

I taped a little piece of leftover carpet on the sides and top of my old broken radio. Not only did it make the radio attractive, but even the sound was better! The rug piece seems to act as a modulator. So, if your radio case is broken, you might try this.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I guess I'm stupid but I just learned if you stand your loaf pans, cookie sheets, muffin tins, etc., on end or their side, they take up less space and are easier to remove from thhe cupboard.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: I cut the feet from old nylon stockings above the ankle and slip them over my hands when washing my good stockings each evening.

No matter how I tried to keep my hands smooth, I usually managed to snag the good stockings until I used this method.

ETHEL RING.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a problem that maybe you can solve.

My husband takes a vacuum bottle of coffee to work. He likes milk or cream in it but sometimes it sours.

I've tried fresh, powdered and canned milk and even the dry frozen non-dairy products. They all sour.

What causes this and how can it be avoided:

A FAITHFUL READER.

-:-

Now ladies . . . let's help this friend in need, and probably many others who have the same problem.

I know that thousands of our readers have solved this problem and maybe they will write and tell us the best way way to keep the milk or cream sweet. Write to us in care of this paper.

We'd love to hear from you.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I took the lady's suggestion of making a toaster cover to match my kitchen curtains.

There was still some material left over, so I made a cover for my blender, covered two very old pot holders, made a scarf for my washer and one for my refrigerator.

My kitchen never looked lovelier.

Sincere thanks.

MRS. JACK JACOBS.

DEAR HELOISE: You will probably think this is silly, but I thought I'd pass it along anyway.

After I clean the bathrooms, I take a few drops of my favorite bath oil and rub it on the chrome faucets, soap dish, etc.

It not only shines them beautifully, and makes them water repellent, but also gives the bathroom a lovely fragrance.

SHARON

-:-

True! And it works.

HELOISE.

Construction Delayed On Kennedy Memorial

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Construction of the John F. Kennedy Memorial, covering a city block in downtown Dallas, is being delayed by county officials to consider adding an underground parking lot.

Work of clearing old buildings from the site, located about two blocks from the spot where President Kennedy was assassinated in November, 1963, was completed last week.

The county's architects were instructed by County Judge Lew Sterett Tuesday to meet with the designers of the memorial to work out a palatable design for the memorial and the underground garage.

Fined For Speeding

NEW CUMBERLAND — Manuel Nuevo, 43, of Moundsville was fined $10 and costs for speeding in the court of Squire John D. Herron here Monday. He was cited by West Virginia state police.

Father And Son Seek Same Legislative Seat

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A Wichita man has filed for the Republican nomination for the same legislative seat being sought by his son, a Democrat.

"I suppose it creates an odd-looking situation," said Bruce B. Madden, the father. "But the filings were entirely independent."

Madden's son, Robert B. Madden, 21, filed for the Democratic nomination for state representative early in May. He did not know of his father's intentions.

Portrait Snatcher

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP) — Tom Smith, police judge here, felt that some thieves who stole some of his clothing from an automatic coin laundry were brash enough. But a few days later, someone stole his portrait from his desk in his office in the police station.

'A' Student Governor Of Girls State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Martha Wasson of Canton, an all "A" student at Glenwood High School, will be installed tonight as 20th governor of Buckeye Girls State.

Miss Wasson was elected in close balloting Tuesday over Mary Ann Fearon of Strasburg, completing a sweep by her hometown for top spots in Girls State and its counterpart, Buckeye Boys State. John Arigoni of Canton served as governor of Boys State, which ended last week.

A member of the National Honor Society who finished in the upper 2 per cent of students taking the National Merit Scholarship qualifying tests, Miss Wasson will be installed by Judge C. William O'Neill of the Ohio Supreme Court.

The new governor of the "school in Americanism and government," sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Wasson.

The 1,227 residents of Girls State also elected Patricia Pensel of Youngstown as lieutenant governor over Teresa Edgar of Columbus.

Selected as attorney general was Linda Brithwell of Akron, over Diane Merritt of Berea.

Linda Schwan, Rt. 1, Jeromesville, Ashland County, was chosen state auditor over Mary Beth Arter of Worthington.

The girls named Sandra Brehl of Columbus secretary of state over Janice Worth of Wooster.

The office of state treasurer went to Marcia Nichols of Madison, Lake County, over Linda Lewis of Dayton.

Misses Wasson, Brehl and Nichols won on the Nationalist Party ticket; Misses Pensel, Brightwell and Schwan as Federalists.

Preceding the inauguration ceremony will be a dinner at which the main speaker will be Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Place the handle of your broom across the backs of two kitchen chairs. Hang small shirts and dresses on hangers on the broom as you iron, until you have all you can carry to the children's clothes closets. Saves steps.

Junior Editors Quiz on BARNACLES

QUESTION: Are barnacles sea shells?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: When the tide goes out along the seashore, you will often find that rocks and pilings, which were submerged at high water, are covered with hundreds of little creatures with whitish shells. One might imagine they were related to the mollusks, a primitive group with soft bodies which often build shells for protection. Many mollusks, such as snails, move about. But the nearly formless structures they move on are not real legs, since they have no joints. Barnacles, however, belong to a different and more advanced group, the arthropods, having such relatives as lobsters, shrimps and crabs. When very young, a barnacle is not attached to a rock, it is a free swimming little creature with six legs and one eye. It passes through several stages, getting 12 feet and two eyes, which last are finally lost. Feelers in his head are changed into suckers carrying a strong cement. Now the little barnacle gropes around for a permanent home and glues himself to it, head downward, for the rest of his life. His body secretes a shell with a hinged top, which can close down for protection. He can stick out his feathery feet and, by waving them, force water inside his shell, bringing in oxygen and food particles.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: If you get tired sometimes and begin to envy the little barnacles resting on their rocks, don't! They have security, but they can't detach their heads to see what the world is like. And they have no newspapers to read.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today in Wednesday, June 22, the 173 day of 1966. There are 192 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history.

On this date in 1773, missionaries of the order of the Dominican Friars entered the territory of what is now California. They established the first settlement in the territory.

On this date

In 1870, the U.S. Department of Justice was organized.

In 1937, Joe Louis became heavyweight boxing champion of the world.

In 1944, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the GI bill of rights.

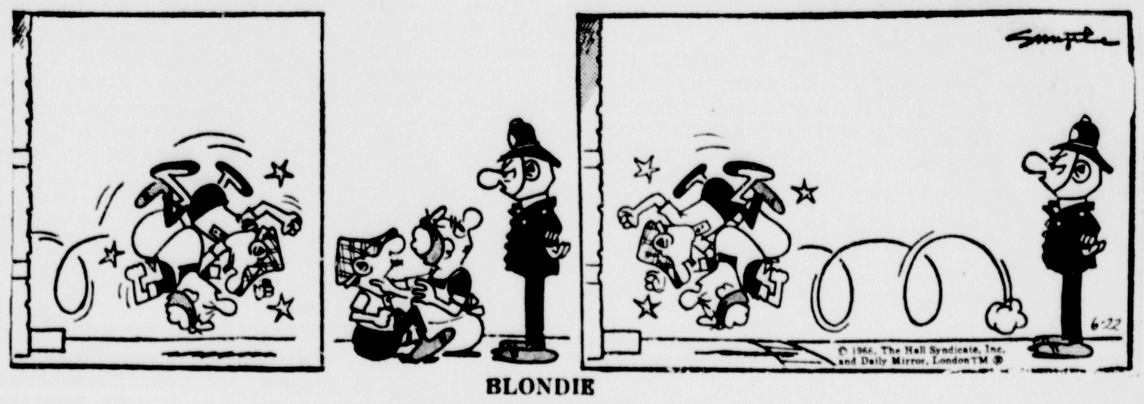

In 1945, U.S. troops in Germany found a royal Hungarian treasure valued at $75 million.

Ten years ago — At the end of a week-long official visit to Egypt, Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov and Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser issued a joint communique. It said Shepilov and Nasser had reached agreement on relations between Russia and Egypt, but did not mention any Soviet commitment on the Israeli-Arab dispute.

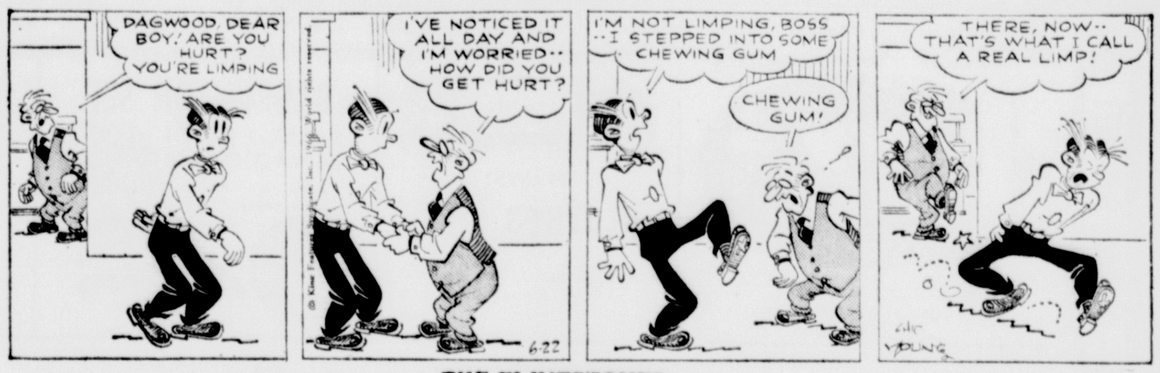

Five years ago — The leader of the secessionist Congo province of Katanga, Moise Tshombe was released after two months of political detention.

One year ago — Despite large, disorderly demonstrations in the capitals of both countries, Japan and South Korea established full diplomatic relations. It climaxed 14 years of negotiations.

Money Was Ignored

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — An envelope containing $75 in cash slipped from the pocket of Bernard Grosshardt in front of a busy cafe in Hutchinson. He did not notice the loss until he reached home. He retraced his steps, and though many persons had passed the money - filled envelope during his absence, it was on the sidewalk undisturbed when he returned.

As napkins almost always outlast their matching tablecloths, turn them into attractive luncheon cloths. Join them with rick-rack briad, sewing it on by hand. Gay, contrasting colors may be used.
